BRITAIN BREAKS WITH BULGARIA

Dayton Strike Moves Toward Showdown

WAR OFFICIALS INTERVENE IN LABOR STRIFE

Uphold Contract, Order Company to Resume Work on Wright Field Project.

MURRAY HITS MEDIATION

President Minimizes Spread of Strikes; Trouble Ended at North Carolina Camp.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON—(INS)—President Roosevelt today invited CIO President Philip Murray to the White House for a luncheon conference. An hour earlier Mr. Roosevelt consulted with William S. Knudsen, director-general of the office of production management.

(By International News Service)

A show-down between the government, as repfesented by the U. S. war department, and American labor over strikes in defense industries was nearing today.

At Washington, the war department took the unprecedented action of intervening in an American Federation of Labor jurisdictional dispute at Wright Field, Dayton, O.

Coincidentally, CIO President Philip Murray revealed his organization strongly opposes creation of a labor-defense mediation board to handle disputes in defense industries.

Although a half dozen or more strikes and labor disputes are delaying production, President Roosevelt minimized their effect on the nation's total national defense effort. He pointed out that they have affected only about one-quarter at any time of defense industry at any time or about 1-400th of the aggregate national defense production.

But the war department made it plain that it had lost patience with unionists who struck at Wright Field because a New York firm doing $36,800 worth of work at the army air base employs some CIO members.

The war department upheld the validity of the contract held by the Penner Corporation and instructed it to resume work. The A. F. of L. walkout brought to a standstill $5,900,000 in construction work at Wright Field.

BUCHAREST —(AP)—Former King Carol of Rumania, who has been under protective guard in a hotel room in Seville, Spain, was reported here today to have escaped across the frontier into Portugal with a Polish passport.

Carol abdicated last September leaving the throne to his son, Mihai. He fled through Yugoslavia and Italy to Switzerland, accompanied by Mme. Lupescu.

From Switzerland they went to Spain where the monarch vainly sought to get permission to travel further, perhaps to the United States.

MEXICO, U. S. IN 'SOLID FRONT'

Sign Mutual Assistance Pact For Common Defense of Entire Continent.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — Negotiation of a mutual assistance agreement between the United States and Mexico gave the North American continent today in effect a common defense front from the Arctic Circle almost to the Isthmus of Panama.

The understanding with Mexico complements the recently concluded joint defense pact between the United States and Canada, thus providing for protection of both southern and northern flanks of the continent.

Military, naval and air force experts of the United States and Mexico, the state department disclosed, are already at work on specific plans for cooperative defense against aggression, and it was believed that the agenda in-

SUPER-BOARD TO BOSS AID, DEFENSE SEEN

4 Cabinet Members, Hopkins Expected to Make Up New Advisory Committee

WAITS AID BILL PASSAGE

Capital Sources Say OPM Will Retain Full Charge of Arms Production.

By MAX BOYD
(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — President Roosevelt will set up a super-committee including four cabinet members and possibly Harry L. Hopkins to help him dovetail the far-flung national defense and British aid programs, reliable sources predicted today.

Full responsibility for production, it was emphasized, would continue to rest as heretofore upon the office of production management and its co-directors, Industrialist William S. Nudsen and laborite Sidney Hillman.

But Mr. Roosevelt would rely heavily, these sources declared, upon the four cabinet officers, their advisors and Hopkins in determining combined British and American needs and in deciding what existing equipment and new production should be released to the British.

The exact form which the overall advisory group would take was not discussed. Secretaries Hull, Stimson, Knox and Morganthau were listed as certain members, however, and Hopkins was reported to be slated for an important place in the set-up. This might be as a member, administrator or liaison officer between the group and the White House.

Hopkins, former WPA administrator and former secretary of commerce, has Mr. Roosevelt's complete confidence. He made a trip to England for the chief executive recently, and the president is known to regard him both as an able administrator and a trustworthy advisor. The only factor that might limit Hopkins' role, it was said, was his recent ill health.

Presumably, it was said, the committee would be created as soon as soon as congress passed

Sherwood Suspends Head of Apple Creek Institution.

COLUMBUS—(AP)—State Welfare Director Charles L. Sherwood said today he would plan an exhaustive investigation to determine whether there were grounds for discharging Dr. Murray M. Fowler suspended yesterday as superintendent of the Apple Creek institution for feebleminded.

Sherwood said he asked Dr. Fowler if he would like to resign before placing him under a 30 day disciplinary suspension yesterday. Sherwood said Dr. Fowler declined, but added he would welcome an impartial investigation.

The director said he was dissatisfied with Dr. Fowler's handling of personnel matters at the institution, but added he did not cite specific cases.

Nazi Shadow Spreads Further Over Europe

How the German government has spread its domination over almost the entire continent of Europe is shown strikingly in the Central Press map above. Latest addition to the domain of the Third Reich is Bulgaria, where German troops now hold positions along the Greek and Turkish borders. Only Switzerland, unoccupied France, Sweden, Finland, Yugoslavia, Greece, Portugal, Spain, the British Isles and European Turkey have escaped the rule of German armed forces. Although Yugoslavia thus far has maintained its freedom, it's expected to succumb soon under Nazi pressure.

DEMOCRAT IN MAYOR'S CHAIR

Miller Takes Over As Locke Goes On Southern Trip.

Voters of Mansfield elected a Republican mayor a year ago last November but they're going to have a Democrat at the head of the city administration during the next week or 10 days.

Republican Mayor William J. Locke left this morning for Camp Benning, Ga., with his daughter, Mrs. Harold McIntosh, who will join her husband at the camp. That leaves Democrat President of Council Howard G. Miller as acting mayor.

Locke said he may visit Camp Shelby, Miss., to extend greetings to Mansfield youths in training there before returning here by train.

COLD LEAVING

Weatherman Says It'll Warm Up Tonight, Thursday.

To frost-bitten Mansfielders who found their thermometers averaging 17.5 degrees above zero during the past 24 hours, today's weather forecast will read like good news.

It says: fair and not so cold tonight; cloudy and warmer, Thursday.

There was no recorded precipitation last night as the mercury dipped to a low of 10 degrees. Average temperature for the past 16 years was 32.1.

Over the state, temperatures ranged from 12 to 18 degrees early today with some snow in the north portions.

CITY SEEKS TO HONOR BARNES

Mayor Requests Tribute To Mansfielder In Building of B. & O. Underpass.

Naming of the new grade separation overpass on the Baltimore and Ohio railway on West Fourth street road in honor of the late Thomas R. Barnes, Mansfield, had been suggested today in a letter from Mayor William J. Locke to state highway department and Lincoln highway officials.

In his letter the mayor described Barnes as a "prominent industrial leader and indefatigable civic worker."

He said that Barnes had been identified with numerous community projects and cited his years of association with the Lincoln Highway association.

Locke addressed his recommendation to Vance Grimes, engineer of the Ashland division of the state highway department, and forwarded copies to Frank Hopley, Ohio consul of The Lincoln Highway, Hal G. Sours, state director of highways, Murray Shaffer, chief engineer in charge of projects in the highway department, and Carl H. Stander, a former business partner of Barnes'.

The mayor said his recommendation was based on requests from a number of Mansfield citizens.

Work on the half million dollar grade separation project, approved at the February meeting of council, is to start early in the spring.

Boy Plays Game Of 'Suicide'; It Works All Too Well

JERSEY CITY, N. J. — (INS) — Edward McFaulds, nine years old, was dead today—victim of his "playing suicide" game.

The youngster, looping a rope around his neck and over the kitchen door of his home, announced to his brother, George, eight:

"I'll show you how to commit suicide."

Uninterested, George turned back to his homework. Soon afterward, annoyed by his brother's groans, he unloosed the line.

The youngster fell to the floor dead.

Minister Asks For Passport, Gives Warning

Bluntly Accuses Tiny Balkan Country Of Working With Germany; Rome Reports Canadian Division Landed In Salonika.

BULLETIN

LONDON—(AP)—The British government told parliament today Germany had "a considerable number" of soldiers and technicians in French Morocco within 150 miles of the vital Strait of Gibraltar.

BULLETIN

LONDON — (AP) — The British admiralty today asked parliament for "many more ships and great numbers of men" to fight the "Battle of the Atlantic now opening."

(By Associated Press)

Great Britain severed diplomatic relations with Bulgaria today—with a hint that bombs soon may follow—and moved to check an apparent swing of Yugoslavia into the ranks of the Axis.

In Rome, Fascist Editor Virginio Gayda said Britain was moving also to bolster Greece. Gayda said the British had landed "an almost complete division" of Canadian troops at Salonika, key Greek port on the Aegean sea.

British Minister George W. Rendel, in asking for his passport shortly after 10 a. m. Sofia time (3 a. m. EST), bluntly accused Bulgaria of co-operating with Germany in preparations for an attack on Greece.

Rendel intimated that British air attacks might be expected.

"It is a matter of indifference to His Majesty's government what steps Bulgaria may see fit to take to protect herself against external danger," the British declaration said.

In neighboring Belgrade, British Minister Sir Ronald Campbell requested an urgent conference with Yugoslavia's Premier Dragisa Cvetkovic—presumably in an effort to counter Axis pressure on the Balkan nation.

It appeared he was too late. Diplomatic quarters in Belgrade said they heard Yugoslavia's Regent Prince Paul would leave for Germany tomorrow for a meeting with Nazi Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop to discuss possible Yugoslav adherence to the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo alliance.

Simultaneously, Yugoslavia took steps toward mobilization, as Rumania and Bulgaria did after signing the pact. The government called up fresh reserves and posted placards in Belgrade ordering all men of classes from 1890 to 1920 in the capital to have their mobilization papers checked.

Rendel had declared the break probably would mark the "first step in dragging Bulgaria into this war."

He acted after nightlong preparations, including communication with British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, in Athens reportedly arranging British support of

SOLID: Greece and Britain Stand Firm As Allies In War

(By International News Service)

ATHENS—Full agreement between Great Britain and Greece to fight on until the Rome-Berlin axis is defeated was reached in Athens today.

Complete satisfaction was expressed in official circles over results of the conversations between British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Prime Minister Alexander Korizis of Greece.

As was reported Monday, Greece has definitely decided to throw in her lot with England, despite the apparent imminence of a German invasion from Bulgaria.

Today this decision was reemphasized. As one official spokesman put it:

"Whoever Greece's new enemy may be or how powerful she is, remains a matter of secondary importance."

The rest of the Balkans are shrouded in mystery. Bulgaria, Rumania and even Turkey seem uncertain of their own fate and future.

But the attitude and determination of Greece are clear. Both were emphasized again in leading articles in all Athens newspapers. One publication had this to say:

"When the Greek nation made its decision to resist Italy's unwarranted invasion, it decided at the same time to continue the war until final victory was achieved."

SEIZURE: Jap Troops Take Islands Off Indo-China Coast

BULLETIN

TOKYO—(UP)—Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye has summoned an urgent cabinet meeting for tomorrow. Because France again has failed to meet a Japanese deadline for acceptance of Tokyo's terms for French Indo-China.

(By United Press)

SHANGHAI—Japan massed an army on the Gulf of Tongking within a few miles of the French Indo-China frontier today in what Japanese dispatches called one of the greatest surprise landing operations in military history.

A new Japanese expeditionary force was landed along a stretch of more than 250 miles between the mouth of the Pearl river, opposite British Hong Kong, and the Indo-China border in apparent readiness to back up a new ultimatum to France for immediate acceptance of Japan's Thailand-French Indo-China peace terms.

Japanese troops, starting at dawn yesterday, landed at and occupied Kwonghoi, Yeungkong, Tingpak, Shuitung, the entire Luichow peninsula which separates the South China sea from the Gulf of Tongking and the city of Pakhoi, on the shores of the gulf.

At the same time a formidable Japanese battle fleet, numbering about 100 warships in all, was reported steaming down the China coast toward the area.

The Chinese government's Chungking radio, in a special broadcast, charged that 70,000 Japanese troops and strong naval units had been concentrated on Hainan island dominating the Gulf of Tongking.

It asserted that Japanese experts were preparing Yulin harbor on the South China coast as a submarine base and that with the aid of German and Italian technical advisers, Japan was transforming the Waichow, Spratley and Paracels islands into naval and air bases for a push southward.

The Waichow islands are off the South China coast. The Paracels islands are 160 miles south of Hainan island and the tiny Spratley group is about equidistant from Indo-China Borneo and the Philippines.

Grim Pictures of Crash Deaths Given Credit as Drivers Cut Down on Speed

State Patrol Reports Only Two Arrests Since Sunday.

Publication in The News-Journal last Sunday of a series of grim pictures showing how horribly motorists are mutilated in traffic accidents, received part of the credit today for an almost unprecedented drop in highway speeding arrests and accidents.

Last week at this time, 27 drivers had been arrested on speeding and reckless driving charges. For the same period this week only two arrests have been recorded.

Pointing to the almost clean arrest sheet at the Mansfield highway patrol station, patrolmen said that while no definite reason could be assigned for the decline, publication of The News-Journal pictures "made a lot of drivers think and ease up on the gas."

The pictures showed the bodies of two men still trapped in an automobile and a truck which figured in two separate fatal traffic accidents near Mansfield last Saturday.

At the time the pictures were published, The News-Journal made it known that it was not the practice of the paper to publish such pictures, but that it did print those pictures of the Saturday accidents as a means of impressing on its readers the importance of driving in a safe manner.

Pictures, published by The Mansfield News-Journal, have undoubtedly had their effect upon drivers in this vicinity," one highway patrolman stated. "Even on Route 42, when late night drivers usually 'let her rip,' this week saw cars cruising peaceably at 40 and 45 miles an hour."

HOLLYWOOD

—By Robbin Coons

HOLLYWOOD—It's all right for the Harvard Lampoon boys to have their little joke, but I'm afraid they won't get Joan Crawford on a pension soon. The girl's too busy thinking up new angles.

This picture she's doing now, for instance. It's "A Woman's Face," a picture once made by Ingrid Bergman in Sweden. It's about a pretty girl with a horrific scar. It's not the sort of thing a glamor girl would do. Maybe some glamor girls would do it, but they'd insist on a midget scar—dramatic, but elegant and refined.

ROBBIN COONS

Joan would have none of that. She went whole-hog. She fished around the make-up and came out with a whale of a scar—the sort of disfigurement that would really warp a soul, as the woman's in the story is warped. It's such a honey that you won't be seeing too much of it—just enough to get the idea. Later, when the character is made presentable by plastic surgery, you'll be seeing more of Joan and the warped soul the surgery couldn't cure.

* * *

All this is in line with what George Cukor, the director, calls Joan's "tremendous acting conscience." The sort of "conscience" that made her insist, when they were casting "Susan and God," on an adolescent to play her daughter, as in the play. That was instead of pleading for a Hollywood compromise. You know, a compromise that leaves the play just as it is—except for changing the mother into a very young girl who couldn't possibly have an adolescent daughter.

When Joan was turning M-G-M upside down, fighting for the role of the cheapie in "The Women," she made a characteristic sally: "I'd play Wally Beery's grandma if it were a good part."

No, they can't pension off a gal who's in there fighting and doing things. Joan isn't even feazed when "Rain" is brought up—most unkindly, of course. "Rain" is a black page in the Crawford diary. She got lampooned plenty, and not by Harvard, for her Sadie Thompson.

"Some day," says Joan with a look in her eye, "I'm going to make 'Rain' again—but this time good."

COUNCIL PUTS O. K. ON $25,000 WATER PROJECT

Sets Up Funds To Install New High Capacity Main In Industrial District.

City council today had cleared the way for a $25,000 improvement in the municipal water distribution system calling for the installation of a high capacity main in the east side industrial district.

The legislators at their March meeting last night unanimously approved an appropriation of $14,000 from the waterworks surplus to meet the city's share of the cost of the project planned with the aid of the WPA.

The project already approved by the federal agency is expected to be started by May 1.

It is scheduled to be completed within 60 days and will employ approximately 80 workers now at work on the Weldon avenue-Lexington avenue improvement.

City Engineer W. C. Statler said the men would be transferred to the east side project when the $70,000 project now under way is completed. It is expected to be finished some time next month.

The project will consist of laying a 12-inch line from the Park avenue east subway to Dorian street, over East Fourth to Purdy and then to East Fifth street to Wayne, connecting the high and low pressure lines.

It also provides for the installation of a pressure regulating valve in the vicinity of Jeanette and Blanche street, Statler said.

The city's share of the cost is figured at $15,000 for materials including the pipe while the government will meet the balance of the cost for labor.

Council also approved preliminary legislation calling for the paving of Wood street from Cline to Ruth avenue.

Included in the city's 1940 street improvement program, final legislation authorizing the improvement will come before council next month.

Preliminary legislation calling for the installation of a sanitary sewer on Linden road and Paxford place was also approved.

Golden, a former miner, farmer, and factory worker, was a director of the National Labor Relations board in Pittsburgh in 1935 and 1936. He resigned to take his present post with the S. W. O. C. He is widely known as a lecturer on labor problems and is considered one of the nation's authorities on labor organization as it pertains to the steel industry.

Laff-a-Day

"It must be love. He didn't spend a cent on me all evening and I had a good time!"

In its family welfare work the Salvation Army is called upon for all sorts of service. Yesterday Adjutant Paul Hoffman and Mrs. Hoffman had to play mother and father to three small youngsers abandoned by their own mother and brought to the Army for care. But today Adjt. Hoffman was faced with an entirely different appeal. It was from a serious fellow reciding in Canton who wants the Salvation Army man to find him a wife. The man said he was a widower, tired of restaurant cooking and wanted a small home of his own. He is 46 and makes $1,200 a year. He wants a wife who can cook and can manage to live comfortably on his small income. Adjt. Hoffman will investigate the man thoroughly and if he's O. K. will attempt to introduce him to the right woman. It's all in the day's work.

There were several new laws on city books today that weren't enacted exactly to Hoyle at last night's meeting of city council, but it is doubtful if anyone will ever question the procedure. Boy Scout councilmen, in a belated observance of National Boy Scout week, attended the meeting and held forth with their respective ward legislators. They voted on several measures, casting their ayes for the councilmen, as the latter directed.

Mansfield's new city seal is not only official, but today it is sporting a handsome old-gold frame and a circular one at that. After long conferences to choose just the right emblazonry and a subsequent argument over the founding date of the city when the seal had been finally approved, city officials thought it would only be right to have the emblem properly dressed up. Circular frames just don't lie around at large in city hall corridors, so officials began a hunt. They found just what they wanted on an old picture at the Ritter company. This morning the newly framed seal was delivered to the mayor's office in a frame wholly befitting its dignity.

OHIO FIRM GETS CONTRACT

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The navy announced award of a contract to the General Machinery corporation, Hamilton, rifling machine for guns, $32,335.

EXPECTED TO SEEK INCREASE OF 16 MILLION

Will Ask State Departmental Building Program, Hike In Pension Funds.

(By United Press)

COLUMBUS — Governor John W. Bricker will include a request for $7,000,000 to be expended on a state departmental building program when he submits his biennial budget recommendations to the Ohio legislature tonight, the United Press learned from an authoritative source today.

The total budget requests will aggregate approximately $16,200,000 above the money actually appropriated for the past two years, it was disclosed.

The governor will appear in person to deliver his fiscal proposals to the house and senate, meeting in joint session, at 8:15 p. m.

Presentation of the budget is expected to quiet, for a day or two at least, the "revolt" of the potent Democratic minority in the senate. The Democratic senate bloc yesterday announced its refusal to act upon any major administration fiscal measures until the governor submitted his budget.

Biggest single increase in the recommendations of the governor, it was learned, will be appropriation of an additional $6,500,000 for old age pensions. This was made necessary by the advancement of the maximum monthly pension to $40.

This sum will be evenly matched by federal money, making a total of $13,000,000 more available for pensions.

The state building program, it was learned, calls for approximate appropriations of $4,375,000 for welfare institutions, $2,225,000 for buildings at state universities and $350,000 for state fair grounds buildings.

Biggest departmental increase, informed sources said, was $1,750,000 for current operations of the state welfare department.

Bills passed yesterday included:

In the house — A bill which would repeal laws which prohibit the use of barbed wire fences. Passing by a vote of 79 to 28, it was sent to the senate.

The senate passed and sent to the house a bill which permits the purchase or leasing of voting machines. It was passed by a vote of 29 to 4.

A bill prohibiting the sale of fireworks after Aug. 1 was passed by the senate, 32 to 1, and sent to the house for concurrence in amendments which delays the effective date of the measure until after the next July 4. Senator Harry A. Hughes, D., Butler, voted against the bill.

California, Here Comes Good News; No Rain for While

LOS ANGELES —(AP)— It was mighty good news to southern Californians, drenched and disgusted by eight major storms in 25 days, when the weather bureau announced:

"No further Pacific storms are in evidence which might bring more rain within the next several days."

Showers continued to fall today, rail and highway transportation in many sections was still tangled, but there were indications that chamber of commerce drum beaters for the usually sunny winter climate soon could emerge from self-imposed retirement.

The most recent storm, which since Monday night brought two inches of rain to Los Angeles and four inches and more in suburban communities, broke a rainfall record dating back 48 years.

Shopping Around...

With MARIANNE

NO MATTER what the weather might be, you'll be convinced that spring is just around the next corner after a look at the new fashions in the downtown stores. . . . As is the case every spring, navy blue seems to be the leading color, and in some styles this year it is perked up with fluffy touches of white, while others feature military notes of gold braid, red, white and blue piping and insignias. . . . Capes are smart with either suits or dresses, and the new sloping shoulders are being featured in many suits and gowns.

Marianne

* * *

And navy blue and military motifs have inspired one of the country's leading cosmeticians to introduce a new make-up shade. . . . It's called Brass Band and seems to capture the brighter side of the military picture, expressing the military spirit in its gayest mood. . . . It is a bright, deep true red shade with a depth of tone, which makes it quite dramatic. . . . In addition to being attractive with navy blue, Brass Band will also enliven such important spring neutrals as beige, greige, gray and white. . . . Greens too, will be important this spring, and the vivid freshness of this make-up shade provides a lovely contrast with every green from pale grass greens to bright sharp greens. . . . And it can be purchased in lipstick, cream rouge, dry rouge and nail polish.

* * *

If, on the other hand, you're planning to be "pretty as a posy" this spring in a wardrobe of clothes inspired by soft hues of the flowers, you may find Nosegay, another shade of make-up introduced by this same manufacturer, to be just what you're looking for. . . . Nosegay has all the rosy flower-toned freshness of color that you see in the blossoms and veils, in the delicate posy pinks and blues, in the pale rosebuds and deep fuchsia shades that tint spring's loveliest flower-laden hats. In fact, it seems to have an almost chameleon quality of blending—looking tender and pink with the pale pastels and luscious as a rose with the deeper fuchsia and violet tones. . . . This rosy-red make-up also can be obtained in lipstick, cream and dry rouge and nail enamel—and for a final touch—perfume, cologne and matching bath luxuries. . . . A lovely floral fragrance, it smells like a whiff from grandmother's garden.

* * *

BUT turning from dreams of spring back to cold winter actualities, you'll want to be sure to aid your skin in the double-quick defense act it has to perform in the constant vacillating between the indoors heat and the outdoors cold. . . . To counteract the cold, chapping winds when you go out, use Blustery Weather lotion on your arms, hands and elbows. It's also soothing to a body fretted by itchy wool sports clothes, and it's an effective powder base too. . . . And during the remaining cold weather, you'll find that an extra rich night cream is quite important too, to help you guard against that chapped, flaky-dry rough look and feeling.

* * *

AND IN CONCLUSION: A daily look around the downtown stores reveals that there's always something new to be had in costume jewelry. . . . An unusual necklace features flat discs about the size of a fifty-cent-piece cut from pale pastel sponges bobbing from a braid cord, while necklaces and bracelets of small wooden rings are brightened with red dice or ball and jacks. . . . And some new purses, which really look like oversized money bags, are those of soft pastel suede, which close at the top with drawn strings and have fringe-trimmed edges.

Note: The styles described above are available in Mansfield shops. You can learn where they may be obtained if you will telephone Marianne at The News-Journal between 1 and 2:30 p. m.—Canal 4251.

WORMS MAY BE A REASON
Why Your Child Can't Gain Weight

Face the facts: It's easy for anybody, anywhere, to "catch" roundworms. And if the awful creatures are living and growing inside your child, that may be why the youngster is pale, thin, nervous. Other signs of worms are itching nose or seat, uneasy stomach, fingernail biting.

Act now! Drive out roundworms before they can "get set" and cause trouble! Use Jayne's Vermifuge—America's best known proprietary worm medicine — scientifically tested and proved by over a century of use, in millions of cases. Jayne's expels stubborn worms, yet acts very gently. If there are no worms, it works merely as a mild laxative. Insist on Jayne's Vermifuge.

"Pitfalls of Love"

(A Sequel to Marriage Meddlers)

By ADELE GARRISON

Helena Brixton gave a deep baffled sigh, while I thanked my particular little joss that I was not dealing with a woman whose mentality was like that of Lillian or Katherine. She is, as Dicky described her, "quick on the uptake" but she does not possess the keen discernment, the subtlety, or the intuition of my best friend, and my beloved "in-law," and I was sure that she was accepting my ambiguous statement as fact.

"She must feel awfully guilty about Ronald, to shut herself away from everybody like that," she said, then added vindictively: "I don't care if she is Lillian's daughter. I hope she suffers plenty, that girl, for what she has done to my boy."

"There'll be tea in the library presently," she said, rising. "Would you like to come down, or would you prefer it served up here? You're so tired, perhaps—"

But I barred that proposal ruthlessly.

"I shall come down, of course," I said, throwing off the blanket covering me, and setting my feet on the floor. "I am not tired now. A short nap always refreshes me, and this bed would tempt an anchorite."

"I try to have good mattresses," she said, lighting up at the tribute to her housekeeping. "How soon will you be down?"

I knew the question meant: "When shall I put the kettle on?" And knowing the insistance of all good tea brewers upon freshly boiling water, I made my answer prompt.

"In ten minutes exactly," I said, and resolved to anticipate the time by a minute. "I shall need to freshen up a bit, and then I'll be with you."

"Your bags are just outside in the hall," she said, "for we didn't want to disturb you. I'll get them."

"No!" I protested, but before I could reach the door, she had gone out of it and returned as swiftly with my two bags.

"In ten minutes, then," she said, hurrying toward the staircase. "I'll tell our men."

I looked longingly at the shower in the well-appointed bathroom, wishing that I could forego tea for its luxury, but made myself as presentable as possible, and went downstairs to the library where I found Helena sitting behind the tea table with Dicky and her husband standing near her.

"Did you have a good nap?" Sam Brixton inquired solicitiously, drawing forward a big chair and putting me into it "I told Dicky he ought not to disturb you, but he said he had his orders."

"'She who must be obeyed,'" Dicky quoted with an airy little wave of his hand toward me, and I interrupted the rather strained laughter with which they greeted the gibe. I knew that neither Sam nor Helena were in any mood for mirth.

"I had a wonderful nap," I said, "and I did not want to sleep a minute longer. How lovely your tea service is!" I turned to Helena with sincere admiration in my voice, for the exquisite "thousand and one heads" china, which I never had seen before, although I was familiar with the rather orante silver which Sam Brixton long ago had given his wife.

"Yes, I love it," Helena said. "Ronald and Carolyn gave it to me for Christmas last year."

Her voice was unsteady, and as she busied herself with the teapot, I saw her husband glance uneasily at her, and knew that he was worrying about the probable effect upon her health which her anxiety about Ronald was causing.

I never have subscribed to the theory that uneasy thoughts call to the people causing the anxiety, but I almost believed it when, just as we finished our tea, Ronald rushed into the room and looked around wildly.

"Where's Carol?" he demanded.

Letters From Same Family?

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Not often do I get in one day letters which come apparently from two members of the same family.

Mr. S. writes to tell me that it's absolutely impossible for him to work at his office all day, rush home, dress hurriedly and go out with his wife three and even four evenings a week. Festivity usually takes the form of dancing, and Mr. S. is losing weight, has a cough which he can't manage to throw off, and is so tired the day after that much profitable business goes to rival concerns.

His letter, too long to print, concludes with this paragraph: "We know of the slow poisoning administered so deftly during the Middle Ages that no one ever discovered the poisoner. There are present-day wives equal to any Borgia as husband-killers. Mine, for instance, insists on taking me out three and four times a week to parties. Of these, two at least are dancing affairs from which I return completely exhausted in mind and body, and have not the necessary freshness for the next day's work. You'll ask why I put up with it? The reason is that I have a morbid horror of scenes."

And now for the wife's letter. I can't swear that the letter is actually from this woman's husband because he writes on his office stationery. But draw your own conclusions. The wife's letter bears the same postmark, is signed by the same name as the complaining husband, but is without street address.

"DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

"My eyes are so red and swollen with weeping that I don't know if you can make out this letter. I called my husband up at his office to remind him he must come home in plenty of time to have an early dinner and dress, as we were going to a dance at the Country Club, 18 miles distant.

"He said he did not intend to go; that he was tired and had been to two dances with me this week. I told him I had accepted this invitation two weeks ago, and we could not disappoint our hostess. Besides it was a lovely dance and all the people who would be there were good for him to know. He cut me short with: 'Phone her any old lie you please; I'm not going out this evening. You can get someone else to take you to the dance if you care to go But it's home and an early bed for me.'

"I begged, pleaded, argued, and he hung up the receiver. When I rang him up again the secretary said he was out, which I know was not the case.

"I am terribly lonesome, and have nothing interesting to do all day. I look forward to my evenings when I can go out with my husband. I hope our marriage is not going to be one of the six which goes on the rocks. But if he continues to decline to go out with me evenings and continues to be so selfish, I see nothing ahead of us but separation

"UNHAPPY WIFE."

To understand your husband's position, my dear, I believe you'd have to ask him if you mightn't have a desk in his office, for a month at least. Then, if you once understood the strain, struggle and disappointments that come to a man during the course of a day, perhaps you'd realize that he must have a good many of his evenings at home for relaxation. What you do not realize is that you are not only killing his love, but wrecking his health.

At the moment the world is begging for service. Europe is starving. The very flower of our manhood is being drafted. Why not try to do something useful. Dancing is all right but it's not the whole "Psalm of Life." I'm afraid you are spoiled and don't realize how pampered you have been.

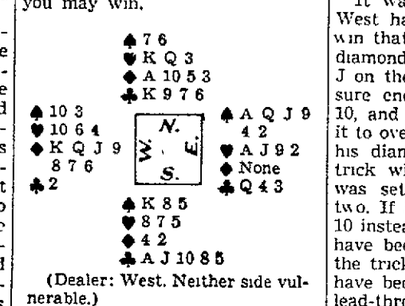
"The Authority on Authorities"

BREAK UP THAT PLAY

When you are defending and you see that you are end-played if you take the current trick, and must then lead back something which will produce an extra trick for the declarer, your job is to duck if you can, and hope your partner can take the current trick. If he holds the card with which to do it, you save a trick. If he does not, you take the same number of tricks as if you had let the declarer end-play you. In either event you cannot lose, and you may win.



(Dealer: West. Neither side vulnerable.)

West	North	East	South
4 ♦	Dbl	Pass	5 ♣
Pass	Pass	Dbl

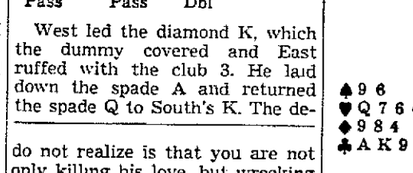
West led the diamond K, which the dummy covered and East ruffed with the club 3. He laid down the spade A and returned the spade Q to South's K. The declarer thereupon took in the club K and A, led the heart 5 to the Q and A and ruffed East's return of the spade J in dummy. South then cashed the heart K and led the heart 3.

East, an astute card-reader, realized what the declarer was up to. It was clear to him that the declarer's two holdings were now stripped of both major suits. If East won this trick, he would have nothing to return but a major, so that South could ruff in the North hand and discard a losing diamond from his own.

It was clear, however, that if West had the heart 10, he could win that ninth trick and return a diamond. So East did not put his J on the heart 3, but his 9. West sure enough bobbed up with the 10, and was smart enough to use it to overtake the 9. He fired back his diamond Q then and took a trick with it. Thus the contract was set three tricks instead of two. If South had held the heart 10 instead of West, nothing would have been lost by East's play, as the trick given away there would have been offset by the lack of a lead-throwing end-play.

* * *

Tomorrow's Problem.



(Dealer: West. North-South vulnerable.)

During the play against South's 3-No Trumps, should East play "second hand low" on a lead of the club 2 from dummy? If not, why not?

HOROSCOPE

For Thursday, March 6.

Opportunity may come knocking at the door on this day, judging by mainly propitious planetary auspices. The mentality may be keyed up to brilliant coups of a progressive and productive character, which may impress capital or big business with their merit. This may approach the documentary status signing of papers, correspondence, etc., but be prepared for some sort of non-cooperation from an elder or superior. This may be broken down by convincing arguments or other mental shrewdness or sound acumen, as well as personal popularity and good fellowship.

If It Is Your Birthday.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of definite progress with definite opportunity for demonstrating their mental brilliance as well as sound business acumen. New and meritorius propositions should assure capital and influence from high places for promotion, despite some slight measure of opposition from an elder or superior. All pertaining to writings, documents, legal matters, travel should thrive.

A child born on this day should be blest with a brilliant as well as shrewd mind, and should have much ingenuity of a practical as well as intellectual sort. It will have worthy ambitions and should attain preferment from influential sources.

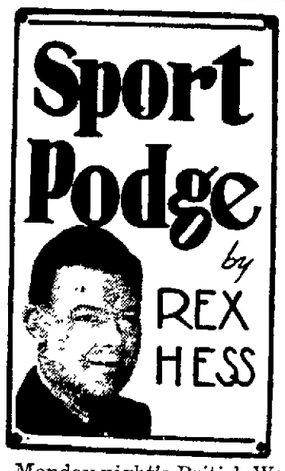
Harmon's Wolves Stall to Victory Over Toledo Five

Sport Podge by REX HESS



Monday night's British War Relief boxing show at the armory ran into enough tough breaks in the general course of things, it hardly deserved the crowning blow of losing the main bout through the failure of an irresponsible boy to show up.

When Paul Carbetta's spectacular success in the Chicago Golden Gloves caused his automatic removal from the benefit card, the show probably lost another 200 customers.

Fresh from four victories in Chicago, Paul should have drawn that many more fans easily. But tournament rules prohibit him from fighting elsewhere 10 days before his tourney bouts, and Paul is going back Friday night for the semi-finals.

* * *

As I get the story of Al Bondy's run-out of his main bout with Al Sauers, the Michigan state light-heavyweight champion from Monroe was in Toledo the day before the fight, and promised the manager of the Toledo boxers he would certainly be on hand for the trip to Mansfield. He even offered to drive all the way to Mansfield from Monroe, but the Toledoans wanted him in their party.

The Toledo boys waited for him an hour past leaving time Monday night, but no Bondy appeared So now he faces suspension. If it hadn't been for that slam-bang battle between Leonard Waddell and Marvin Moreland, the customers would have left with a very bad taste indeed. As it was, they were happy enough.

* * *

Leonard and Marvin didn't distribute any sleeping powders, but they provided the aspirin for the headache the backers of the show were rapidly acquiring.

* * *

I asked George Satterlee to identify some pictures of ball players for me and one of them he marked as "Chuck" Byers, Mansfield Braves' hurler.

And who do you think it was? Old Darby Yarmon, who was third-basing in these parts when you and I were young, Maggie!

What are you trying to do to me, George?

* * *

Sonny Meder is generally regarded as quite a bowler, but I'm beginning to have my doubts.

Bowlers may have noticed the fact that Sonny rolled into second place in the Andorka's sweepstakes at Lorain Sunday night but was not recorded on this page until Tuesday. Not a word was there on Monday.

"I forgot all about it," Sonny explains.

* * *

He forgot it, he says! What kind of a bowler is that? He's not like any kegler I've ever heard about.

Shelby Holds Tourney Hopes

Whippets Meet Norwalk In Opening Round.

SHELBY—Boasting the best cage season in 10 years, Shelby Whippets are expected to go places in the annual tournament at Sandusky which opens Friday night.

* * *

Meeting one of the tougher teams, Norwalk, in the opening round, Shelby will be forced to play the three high rating teams in a row to keep in the running.

* * *

Norwalk is placed about in third position of the teams entered in the tournament, with Tiffin Columbian and Fremont as first and second teams respectively. Mansfield may be a "dark horse" of the affair this year.

If Shelby should get by the fast Norwalk five, they will return to play the following night against the winner of the Fremont-Port Clinton game. Two wins would carry Shelby out to the sectional tournament at the same place the following week and against the defending champs.

Coach William Quay does not predict a district tournament champion this year, but he does expect Shelby to force any team it plays to go the route.

Shelby took third place in North Central Ohio League cage race and has won eight and lost six games. Teams defeated by the Whippets were Willard, Crestline, Marion Harding, Mount Vernon and Galion. The last two teams were defeated by one point.

Mansfield Art and and Bryans defeated the Whippets twice.

Trophy Given for Pin Tourney

With March 25 set as the deadline for filing, entries already are being received at the Meder alleys for the annual city bowling tournament. The trophy shown above has been donated by Rogers Jewelers for the sponsor of the winning team in the alley joust, which is to be a handicap affair with prizes in singles, doubles, five-man, and all-events.

BOWLING SCORES

Bert Haley led the pin parade in the Mansfield Tire Bowling league last night with a total of 620 on games of 185-190-245, and his last game also took high honors. "Skeets" Wolf turned in 231-181-204—616.

* * *

The Mansfield Service store chalked up high total on 747-857-916—2,520, and the last game also was high.

* * *

Glenn Lanning, sr., rolled 223-205-178—607 for high total in the Transfer league, but Bob Ellis checked in with high game of 234. Ellis had seven straight strikes.

Globe Steel rolled high game of 952 and high total score of 961.

* * *

Margaret Baker and Bob Taylor turned in high score of 961 in mixed doubles. Miss Baker had 177-168-148—943, and Taylor 186-141-141—468.

* * *

Draft Scares Moguls

Feller, Rigney, and Williams Are Threatened.

NEW YORK —(AP)— The army draft, digging deeper into baseball day by day, threatens to become the controlling factor in the American league's pennant race this year—and, perhaps, in the National, too.

Latest star threatened is Bob Feller, around whom all of Cleveland's championship hopes center.

* * *

It has been known for sometime he would get his questionnaire before July 4, but a draft board official now says the Indians' fireballer may be called to colors before September.

* * *

Losing Feller in the heat of the pennant drive would be nothing short of a catastrophe for Cleveland, yet there is nothing the Indians can do. They can't even be sure he will be summoned because there is no telling how fast the board will weed through the list ahead of him, or whether he even will pass the physical examination when he is reached

The truth is the draft is striking harder and earlier than expected, and other clubs are beginning to tremble at the prospect of losing leading players whom they heretofore considered safe for at least this year.

The Detroit Tigers, of course, already are resigned to giving up Hank Greenberg, the American league's most valuable player, within a month or six weeks after the season starts.

* * *

There is some chance Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox may be called before the season ends. Pitcher Johnny Rigney of the Chicago White Sox has a local order number of 440 at his Chicago suburb, approximately 200 closer the top than Greenberg, and therefore is an uncertainty, to say the least.

* * *

The New York Yankees might lose their rookie shortstop, Phil Rizzuto, who contributes to the support of his parents. But draft boards have shown a great difference of opinion concerning what constitutes dependency.

Hugh Mulcacy, whose expert pitching was expected to keep body and soul together for the Philadelphia Phillies this year, didn't even get to go south with this club. He was helping his folks, too, but was classed 1A by the draft board and will be inducted into the army Saturday.

The Phillies also stand a big chance of losing Roy Bruner, another pitcher, who has a low number at his home in Louisville.

Al Lopez, Pittsburgh Pirates' regular catcher, is awaiting his classification by a Tampa, (Fla.) board. He has a wife and a mother to support, but listed income from oil investments which might be considered for their care. He didn't ask deferment. Frank Gustine at second base also is a Pirate draft prospect.

* * *

The Brooklyn Dodgers are more than a little worried about Harry Lavagetto, third baseman, who has a low number.

* * *

The Cincinnati Reds think they are immune for this season, but the way the draft is rolling, no one can be sure.

Mansfielder Named Coach

Don Hensley Signs as Brown Line Mentor.

A former Pittsburgh university football center who has lived in Mansfeild a year and a half has been named first assistant coach at Brown university.

* * *

Don Hensley, 90 Blymyer avenue, disclosed today he signed a contract last Friday to become first assistant to Coach Skip Stahley at Brown, and take over chief duties as line coach.

* * *

Little known to Mansfeild sport fans, Hensley played on two Pitt teams that went to the Rose Bowl, and later was a member of Jock Sutherland's coaching staff at Pitt. He graduated from Pittsburgh in 1937.

He has been employed here as a salesman for the Lehigh Cement company.

Now busy cleaning up his affairs in Mansfield, Hensley expects to leave for Brown Wednesday with his wife and small daughter.

Harmon Makes Pro Debut Here

By REX HESS
(News-Journal Sports Editor)

Tommy Harmon should be used to it by now, but Michigan's great All-American footballer was more than a bit embarrassed by the adulation of the fans as he participated in his first strictly professional athletic contest last night at Mansfield Senior high gym.

Almost mobbed by kids seeking autographs, Harmon and other cagers performing in the Toledo - Michigan basketball game, were forced to lock their dressing room door, and keep it locked.

Kids rushed out on the floor with paper and pencil in hand, and jammed the gym exit leading to the Michigan dressing room hoping to forestall the great Wolverine wisp of the gridiron, hoping for that name on paper, to hear a mere word from the mighty Wolverine, or even touch his uniform as he crowded by.

It was the first trip made by the former Michigan stars, and only the second game they had played together. A game in the Michigan athletic house saw all proceeds going to the university, so last night's 47-46 Wolverine victory over Toledo was really Tommy's first professional game.

I asked him why he turned down those fabulous offers to play professional football with the Chicago Bears and New York Yankees, and still played basketball for small change.

"I've nothing against professional sport," Harmon declared. "But I've got a radio job when I get out of school, and that's what I want to do." He's also under contract to make two movies in Hollywood next summer.

"Our plans for further basketball are rather indefinite, but we expect to play out the season," said Tommy, "depending pretty much on our showing here tonight."

Tommy's showing was good enough. He wasn't just another football player in scanty-pants, as the paying crowd of 713 agreed. A clever feinter, hard dribbler, and nimble on his feet, Harmon fired at the hoop at every opportunity, and he got plenty of opportunities.

"How about the draft, Tom?" I asked him.

"I'm way up in the 5,000's in Gary, Ind., and we have a lot of strong, healthy boys in my home town. There's nothing to worry about there for a while."

Muskies Defeat Wooster

Mt. Union Cagers Win Conference Crown.

NEW CONCORD — (AP) — Mt. Union is the new Ohio conference basketball champion—thanks to a fast Muskingum college quintet that sneered at odds and tied the Wooster Scots to the stake with the zippiest basketball seen on the Muskingum floor this season.

* * *

The Scots, saddled with a case of first quarter jitters that made them miss 22 out of 24 attempts at field goals, sank into conference obscurity on the small end of a 44-36 score last night.

* * *

The loss was Wooster's second, and coupled with 11 wins for the season gave the Scots a conference percentage of .846. Mt. Union with eight wins and one loss finished the season with a percentage of .888.

Although instrumental in deciding the mythical title, Muskingum was still in fourth place when the smoke cleared away.

Final stading of leaders:

	W	L	Pct
Mt. Union	8	1	.888
Wooster	11	2	.846
Ashland	8	3	.727
Muskingum	9	4	.692

In last night's only other Ohio college game, Xavier easily defeated Dayton university at Cincinnati, 54 to 30.

Tonight's schedule: Wilmington at De Sales, and Toledo at Long Island.

Appleseed-Simpson Cagers Meet Again Tomorrow Night

The Johnnies get together again tomorrow night, the Johnny Appleseeds and the John Simpsons, in a hoop tossing party at Appleseed gym, and indications are that the hall will be crowded to capacity for the bucketball jamboree.

* * *

An estimated 1,400 jammed the Simpson gym, with its seating arrangement for over 900 children, when Simpson scored a four-point win earlier in the season.

* * *

Giving usual allowance for home-court advantage in the first game, it can be seen the two teams were even enough in general play, and Appleseed will have the home-floor edge tomorrow night. So there's no reason why Appleseed shouldn't hope to even the score, and force the city rivalry into a third and deciding game, possibly on a neutral floor.

John Simpson has a season's record of 10 victories and six defeats, and Appleseed 15 wins and five losses.

* * *

North Central Ohio league officials are being signed to officiate tomorrow night's tilt.

* * *

Probable starting lineups for the two schools were announced today by their coaches as:

Appleseed — Bill Roush and Frank Beckel, forwards, Andy Lemereu, center, Bob Morehead and Bob Hall, guards.

Simpson—Bob Baker and Lee Conover, forwards. Jim Ashcraft, center, and Joe Nixon and Russell McBride, guards.

A preliminary game between reserve teams is scheduled at 7:15, with the main tilt at 8 o'clock.

Tommy Leads Stars

All-American Gridder Is High Scorer For Winning Quintet.

CHUCK CHUCKOVITS and his Toledo White Huts waited until too late last night to start their drive, and Tommy Harmon, Michigan's great All-American football player, opened his professional basketball career as a member of a winning team—the Wolves of Michigan.

* * *

The Toledoans were in there battling for that victory, right enough, in the last quarter, but by that time Harmon & Company had decided they wanted to win too. And, leading by one point with 34 seconds to go, they froze the ball, passing up free shots twice to take the ball out-of-bounds, to edge home a 47-46 winner.

* * *

Chuck and his mates didn't guard Harmon too closely in the first half, apparently giving the great gridder a chance to show the fans what he could do. He didn't need too much chance, and led the Michigan stars with 14 points.

A clever feinter and hard driving dribbler, he bulled his way loose for plenty of shots, and twice in the first half sneaked away for sucker shots.

It remained for Jimmy Rae, captain of Michigan a year ago, to capture the attention of the fans with his clever ball-handling however. Rae and big Jake Townsend, Michigan's all-time All-American sparked the Michigan play, with Townsend controlling the ball at the pivot position and blocking the Toledoans out for shots by Thomas and Herb Brogan, this year's Michigan captain.

The two teams were tied at the first quarter mark, 12-12, but the Wolves took a 30-20 lead at the half, and were ahead 45-33 at the third quarter.

* * *

Michigan was held to two points in the final period as Toledo came steadily from behind to close the gap to one point in the last minute of play.

* * *

The brilliant Chuckovits paced Toledo with his one-handed shots from the corner, collecting 16 points.

In the preliminary tilt Mansfield All-Stars won from Myers Cleaners of Ashland 39-27. Big Al Stickler packed too much class for the Ashlanders for this night, finding the hoop for seven buckets.

Pat Riley Meets Pogi In Feature

Texan Tangles With Argentine Grappler.

Pat Riley, transplanted Irishman from Texas, and Gorilla Pogi, former sailor in the Argentine navy, headline Bob Steele's grappling card at the armory tomorrow night in a two-hour, two-out-of-three fall bout.

* * *

A semi-final, one-hour time limit match pits Steele against Les Fishbaugh, the Newark cobbler, and a 15-minute preliminary between local boys completes the card.

* * *

Born in Ireland, Riley came to America as a boy with his parents and settled in Texas where he learned the wrestling game. He made a reputation for himself on the Pacific coast and in the west where he held Leroy McQuirk, light-heavyweight title claimant, to a draw.

Pogi learned his wrestling in the Argentine navy. When he came to this country, New York promoters dubbed him "gorilla."

"I guess it's because I'm too little to be a man too big to be a monkey," explains the stocky South American, who now weighs 180 pounds.

* * *

Fishbaugh is remembered here for his middleweight championship bout with Gus Kallio. He later won the junior light-heavyweight title in a tournament at Fort Wayne, and then was forced to give up wrestling because of a blood clot on the brain.

* * *

Since his recovery he has been promoting and wrestling, which is just what his opponent, Bob Steele has been doing.

Two C. C. C. heavyweights are booked for the prelim.

METAL SHARES MOVE UPWARD IN MILD RALLY

Steels Lead Forward Trend But Bonds, Commodities Show Little Change.

NEW YORK —(AP)— Metal shares tilted upward to give the stock market direction for a minor rallying effort today.

Going forward were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Anaconda, Standard Oil of New Jersey and U. S. Rubber.

Bonds and commodities stuck to a narrow course.

United States Steel opened at 57½, up ⅛, apparently aided by news of quick oversubscription of the offering of 203,000 shares from British holdings at 57 after the close of the exchange yesterday.

Business statistics continued to show activity sustained around the peak levels of the war-time upswing.

Rail loadings were estimated in some quarters to have gained more than seasonally last week. Record-breaking gains telephones still were being announced.

Drawing attention to moderate revival in new financing was the registration of $30,000,000 in refunding bonds by the Wheeling Steel corporation.

CHAMPS GIVEN LOOP TROPHIES

Bucyrus and Marion Receive Awards at Meeting of N. C. O. League.

SHELBY—Silver trophy awards were presented to school officials from Bucyrus and Marion Harding, co-champions of North Central Ohio league cage race this year, when officials from the league schools held a semi-annual meeting at Stout's restaurant in Galion.

The junior varsity award went to Ashland high school, whose reserve team was undefeated in league play. Bucyrus and Marion Harding tied for the cage championship with eight wins and two defeats.

S. F. Jameson of Ashland was re-elected president of the league for another term. Principal O. H. Schaaf of Shelby was re-named secretary-treasurer.

Basketball schedules for the next two years were drawn up.

No comment was made on Marion's joining the recently organized Big Eight basketball league, and Marion was included in the schedules as usual.

It was decided that annual North Central Ohio League track meet would be held at Mansfield in charge of Harry Mehock of Mansfield, if arrangements could be made. Bucyrus will be the host school for the event which has been tentatively set for May 10.

League officials approved moving the meet to Mansfield because the equipment and accommodations for track there is much better than at most of the league schools. A number of the schools cannot accommodate the meet because of poor track equipment.

NEVER EXPECTED TO FEEL SO GOOD AGAIN, CLAIMS YOUNG MOTHER

Had Suffered For Years With Chronic Constipation; Upset Stomach; Nervousness; Severe Headaches; Gives Facts About Jolo to Public.

"I am only 23 years old but for the last few weeks I've felt like I was twice that age," stated Mrs. Irene Little, 128 Downing Street, Piqua, Ohio.

"I am a mother and a housewife and though it isn't an occupation you do have to feel like doing something, because there is plenty to keep a mother busy around the house. Friends say I look better, since I have taken Jolo. Before I took Jolo, gas caused a hurting in my stomach and I didn't eat much for several weeks. I was bilious and constipated. If I stooped over and got up quickly, I would get dizzy and short of breath. Any kind of excitement bothered me as my nerves were in bad shape.

"Gas used to press on my heart and keep me awake at night. I used to belch up liquids and my stomach seemed filled with acid. I never had any energy and felt all played out. My mother bought me a bottle of Jolo. I started to take it on Wednesday and by the following Saturday, I felt much improved."

"I am still taking Jolo although my relief up to date has been wonderful and I'm going to keep on taking Jolo until I'm absolutely sure that I feel perfect. I will gladly endorse Jolo."

NURSES TO GET RAISE IN PAY

Galion Council Changes Salary of Hospital Employes, Hears Report.

GALION — Salaries of nurses and wages of several employes of the new Galion City hospital were raised when city council passed an ordinance Tuesday night to amend a previous ordinance which had been passed Feb. 4.

The new ordinance raises the salary of the superintendent $60 on the year; while the night supervisor, and surgical nurses will get a raise of $10; and the raise for regular nurses amounts to $6 per month. The nurses aides' salaries remain the same, while the cooks are raised $5 per month.

The janitor's salary remains unchanged by the new ordinance. The extra nurses employed for less than 15 days will get 25 cents more on the day, and those working over 15 days will receive a raise of $10 on the month. The extra labor rate remains the same as the previous ordinance.

CRIME AT LOW

Shelby Records Show Only 2 Larceny Cases In Month.

SHELBY—Crime almost took a holiday in Shelby in February with only two auto larceny cases to mar the monthly report released today by Police Chief Leroy Coffey.

Both cars were recovered to give Shelby a no net loss from stolen property for the month. Property stolen was valued at $1,000 and police recovered the property stolen.

This matches a record set for January when there was no stolen property loss. A similar record was set by police for the first two months of 1940, but the net stolen property loss was $1 for both months.

Traffic accidents decreased last month to 13 as compared to 20 accidents reported to police in January, the report showed.

Merchants continue to be careless, police said, wth seven night lights reported out during the month and 25 doors found unlocked by police.

SHELBY RELIEF COSTS DECLINE

33 Per Cent Reduction Made In February as Compared To Same Month in 1940.

SHELBY — Relief expenditures decreased about 33 per cent during February this year in comparison with the same month in 1940 monthly report released today by Mayor W. R. Morris showed.

The city spent only $805 last month, compared with the $1,175 reflief expenditure for the same month a year ago.

Largely responsible for the decrease was the increase in private employment in Shelby this year over 1940 which has cut relief rolls to a low point, Relief Director Mason Freeman disclosed.

Last month 103 persons were on relief. This included 97 persons in 25 families and six single persons, the report showed.

Under the refunding legislation passed by the state recently, Shelby will recieve approximately $1,000 more relief money from the state to bring up the state's share of relief expenditures here during 1940 to 50 per cent. Shelby had received approximately 41 per cent of its expenditures from the state. The refunding act would add nine per cent more to this sum, city officials said.

City relief expenditures dropped from $885 in January to a new low of $808 last month this year.

Every available man able to work on relief rolls has been put to work on WPA or private jobs and taken from direct relief, officials pointed, which has helped lower the relief rolls here under Mayor Morris's administration.

Survivors are two sons, Clyde and William of West Salem; one sister, Mrs. Sam Kready of Wooster; two grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

PTA UNIT GAINS RECOGNITION WITH SYSTEM OF CHILD CARE

ASHLAND—The Lincoln Street unit of the P. T. A. has received recognition in the March issue of the National Parent-Teacher magazine. An article written by the state president Mrs. C. Tracy LaCost of Toledo, describes the plan of co-operation between the P. T. A. unit and the college students in the education department as originated here.

The article tells how smaller children are brought with the parents to the regular P. T. A. meetings and are entertained in another room by members of the education department of Ashland college. The entertainment includes story telling, dramatization of stories, directed games and other forms of educational and socializing diversion. Refreshments are served and the attempt is made to adjourn before 9.

This gives the parents the opportunity to attend their meeting undisturbed and eliminates the necessity of hiring some one to care for children at home. The results as outlined in the article indicate success, for the P. T. A. membership has increased from 60 to 100.

This plan is known as the Junior P. T. A. and has been in operation since September. Mrs. Ross Weaver is the president of the Lincoln unit and has been assisted by the executive committee in perfecting the plan which attracted the attention of the state president and secretary of the national congress extension department, Mrs. Walter Buhlig.

WRONG LIGHT

Survey Shows More Galionites Cross Street on Red.

GALION — That more Galion pedestrians are crossing streets on the red light signals than on the green, was revealed in two ten-minute surveys by Charles B. Vibberts of Columbus, safety director of the Ohio State Automobile association, who was the speaker Tuesday night at a meeting of the Parent-Teachers association at the North school.

Vibberts came to Galion Tuesday afternoon, and during a period of ten minutes at 4:30 o'clock he checked the pedestrians who crossed the Columbus and Harding Way East intersection. In this time 120 persons crossed the street, 67 of them going against the red light while only four waited for the green light.

His figures at Harding Way East and the public square in front of the Woolworth building, in another ten-minute period showed that 54 crossed the street, 27 of them going against the red light and six waiting for the blue light.

PAY INCREASES ARE VOTED BY BUCYRUS BODY

Council Revises Appropriation Anticipating Arrival of New G-E- Factory.

BUCYRUS—City council Tuesday night revised the city's 1941 appropriation ordinance to make way for additional expenditures incident to the erection in Bucyrus of the new General Electric fluorescent lamp works and also revised salary ordinances affecting City hospital and service and sewage plant workers.

Changed in the appropriation ordinance were the following totals for construction work preparatory to the G-E building on the south side: pipe purchase fund for water department, $5,000 to $9,000; sidewalks, $250 to $500; sewer fund, $1,200 to $3,000; fire alarm system, $100 to $150 for new fire alarm box at G-E plant.

A $20,000 balance at the end of 1940 will be used to take up the difference occasioned by these changes and by the salary changes.

At the hospital pay of the clerk was raised from $600 to $720; custodian from $1,000 to $1,200 and all employes, salaried and otherwise, were given a 10 days vacation with pay each year. Heretofore only salaried employes were given vacations.

In the service department all salaries were raised $5 a month and non-salaried employes were raised five cents an hour for labor.

Another ordinance was passed providing for the payment of 50 cents an hour for all extra help hired as clerks by any department of the city. This ordinance merely legalizes former practice.

Resolution was passed extending the city's thanks to the Galion fire department for assisting in the Kelley Vault and Graetz and Foluke fires here February 3 and 9, respectively.

Natives of Jubaland, in Africa, sometimes brand themselves with the same design used for their cattle.

BRITAIN BREAKS OFF RELATIONS WITH BULGARIA

Minister Bluntly Accuses Tiny Nation of Working With Germany; Leaves Soon.

Greece, if that country should be attacked by Germans.

Dutch, Polish and Belgian representatives were expected to leave Bulgaria with Rendel, who arranged to leave British affairs in Sofia in hands of United States Minister George H. Earle.

The intensifying air war in the west brought new ruin in bomb-damaged South Wales.

The British said that section had its second successive overnight firebomb attack. Germans identified the principal target as the port of Cardiff, badly battered and burned from five hours of assault by Nazi planes the night before.

The raid last night dwindled by midnight, but fires burned until dawn.

London and several east and south coast communities also had raid alarms.

Berlin announced British naval forces yesterday morning raided an island off northern Norway, where British land forces at Narvik relinquished their last foothold June 9.

The official German news agency said that after a bombardment which sank several fishing ships the British put a landing party ashore and took a number of German and Norwegian prisoners before withdrawing.

In Tokyo, a second Japanese "deadline" passed at noon (10 p. m. EST, Tuesday) without reply from the French to a new proposal for settlement of the Thailand-French Indo-China frontier dispute.

It was said authoritatively, however, an important interview was scheduled during the afternoon, and that a "critical" situation might be eased, if the French replied favorably at that time.

The Japanese said an agreement must be reached today so front-line troops on the Thailand-Indo-China border can be notified before an armistice expires Friday night.

In the war in Africa, British headquarters announced the capture of the Italian fort at Burye, only 150 miles northwest of Addis Ababa, capital of Ethiopia.

British troops, it was said, were harassing "an Italian column which is now withdrawing toward Debra Marcos," 120 miles from Addis Ababa.

The British communique declared that 1,500 Italian regulars and 200 Colonial troops had deserted with their weapons to join Ethiopian "patriot" troops fighting with British support.

The Libyan desert campaign, stale-mated since the British seized Bengasi on Feb. 6, was reported still inactive.

Says Full Division Of Canadians Lands

ROME — (AP) — Virginio Gayda, Fascist editor who two days ago declared the British had landed troops at Salonika, Greece, today identified them as "an almost complete division of Canadians."

Replying in Il Giornale D'Italia to a Greek news agency's denial that British troops had been sent to Salonika, Gayda declared such a denial was "useless."

"The fact is that one Canadian division is now almost complete at Salonika, followed by numerous detachments," he wrote. "Arms have already been sent from England to Greece.

"So the responsibility for the new Balkan political and military events falls entirely upon the London government and adventurous policy."

Foreign observers saw in Gayda's assertion an indication that the much talked of Axis spring offensive might develop on the eastern Greek front.

Yugoslavia Makes Precautionary Moves

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia—(UNS)—Britain's severance of relations with Bulgaria today led to immediate precautionary measures by Yugoslavia.

Diplomatic quarters said they also expected a British blockade to be clamped down on Rumania "at any moment."

Yugoslavian army reservists between the ages of 22 and 50 were ordered to report for duty.

It appeared the entire country will be on a virtual war footing by March 10.

Nazis Evade Query About Turkish Moves

BERLIN—(U P)—A German authorized source — asked if Nazi troops have concentrated on the Turkish frontier—said cryptically today that 'there can be a lot of changes in two days."

This comment was made as well informed sources revealed that Marshal Hermann Goering is conferring at Vienna today with Gen. Ion Antonescu of Rumania on "military questions."

There had been no previous announcement of Antonescu's conference nor was there any disclosure how it fitted into the fast-moving Balkan picture.

The statement regarding German troop dispositions in Bulgaria was made in response to inquiries by newspapermen who pointed out that previous Nazi assertions had said that the "German Balkan army," now in Bulgaria had avoided regions close to Turkey.

Asked whether any British military action was expected as a result of severance of diplomatic relations with Bulgaria, an authorized source said:

"We are in a position to deal with all events."

Predicts Arab Aid If Turkey's Attacked

ANKARA—(INS)—"If Turkey is attacked, the whole Arab world will rush to her aid," Abdullah Ibn Hussein, Emir of the Trans-Jordan, declared in a statement in Turkish newspapers today.

At the same time, the Ankara radio directed an outspoken broadcast to Yugoslavia, the nation regarded as next on Chancellor Hitler's list for inclusion in the Axis-Japanese military alliance.

The announcer declared: "You might as well be dead as join the Axis. Look at Bulgaria. Why is she occupied? Because she joined the Axis-Japanese alliance. The same fate would await Yugoslavia."

Japan Disclaims Wish To Mediate War

MEXICO, U. S. IN 'SOLID FRONT'

Sign Mutual Assistance Pact For Common Defense of Entire Continent.

cluded Mexico's establishment of naval and air bases which would be available for U. S use in any emergency.

The state department, however, gave no clues to details of the contemplated program when it made the announcement last night that the mutual assistance conversations were under way.

The understanding with Mexico was the first to be negotiated with any of the hemisphere republics under an agreement reached by representatives of the American nations at Havana on July 1, 1940, and was expected to be followed by similar defense collaboration with other hemisphere nations

The United States already has a treaty with Panama for joint defense of the Panama Canal.

In preliminary U. S-Mexican discussions, it was reported, one of the major proposals was that Mexico construct new or enlarged naval bases in Magdalena bay (Lower California) and at Acapulco on the west coast, for protection of Panama Canal approaches, and one or two others at strategic points on the Gulf of Mexico.

The bases would be constructed with funds loaned by the United States, but Mexico would retain full sovereignty.

Developments on the labor front included:

WILMINGTON, N. C.—After a federal conciliator interceded, the Wilmington Building Trades Council (AFL) ended a strike started Monday at Camp Davis, site of a $13,000,000 army anti-aircraft firing range.

PITTSBURGH — CIO-affiliated strikers resumed work on defense contracts at the Curtiss-Wright Propeller division plant. Union representatives and company officials later will discuss the union demand for a closed shop.

COLUMBUS— Federal Conciliator Hugh D. Friel announced settlement of a strike of 100 A. F. of L. carpenters which tied up work on an army project at the General Reserve depot. The workers' demand for higher wages will be considered at a meeting next Monday.

CLEVELAND—About 120 members of a CIO-affiliated die casting workers' union left the plant of Pressure Castings, Inc., halting work on British and United States government orders. Union leaders said the strikers want higher wages, paid vacations and a union shop.

ALTANTA—Because the Cluett-Peabody Co., signed an exclusive bargaining agreement with the CIO, A. F. of L. affiliated employes of the Atlanta plant struck, reducing operations about 50 per cent.

ORANGE, Tex.—The $5,000,000 naval shipyard construction project closed, making 650 men idle, because of a strike of 350 A. F. of L. employes at the plant of the Consolidated Steel corporation of Texas. The latter walkout was called Saturday because the company allegedly refused to sign a contract.

BUFFALO—Representatives of the Steel Workers Organizing Committee (CIO) sat down around a conference table for the first time in history with officials of Bethlehem Steel's Lackawanna plant. Discussions were devoted mainly to a system for handling grievances. Another conference will take place Friday.

DETROIT—The CIO-Affiliated United Automobile Workers handed to Federal Labor Conciliator James F. Dewey a list of demands it is making on the Ford Motor company against which it has filed an intention to strike.

SUPER-BOARD ON DEFENSE, AID DUE

4 Cabinet Members, Hopkins Expected to Take Over Program Direction.

the pending bill authorizing the president to lease or lend military and naval equipment.

In the senate today Senator Tobey (R. N. H.), firing a parting shot in the opposition's formal argument against the administration's British aid bill, charged that it could "get us into war overnight" and would make President Roosevelt "the war lord of Europe."

With the senate again called into session an hour earlier than usual, administration leaders were ready to go to work on amendments as soon as the New Hampshire senator completed a short prepared speech.

Senator White (R., Me.) was expected to answer the attacks on the bill later in the day, but indications were that the main discussion of the day would center on relatively minor alterations made in the house-approved measure by the senate foreign relations committee before the bill was reported out for general debate

This would clear the way for consideration of major proposals, among them the amendment offered by Senator Ellender (D., La.) who wants the bill to contain a proviso against sending American troops out of the western hemisphere.

Administration leaders were reported to have gotten their heads together in effort to work out a compromise of this proposal, thus attempting to eliminate lengthy and acrimonious discussion on the point.

Democratic leader Barkley of Kentucky said, however, that while supporters of the measure had studied most of the amendments that had been proposed there was no agreement of any kind yet on changes in the bill. Between 20 and 30 amendment proposals must be disposed of before the final roll call can be taken.

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

MANSFIELD, OHIO, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 5, 1941.

People who don't have to pay an income tax can't understand why anyone should object to paying it.

Thus far the customary crop of spring poetry has been somewhat retarded by abrupt return of inpropitious weather.

If the senate just keeps on talking long enough, British ships will all be sunk and Hitler will take over the British Isles, and thus the whole problem will be solved.

Strikes That Impede Defense

ANY THOUGHT of unified efforts toward adequate preparations for national defense must await solution of the problems now presented by frequent delays in defense production and preparedness construction, due to strikes.

The administration's estimate of the seriousness of the present national situation is apparently not shared by those labor leaders who precipitate strikes in defense industries, or by the workers who participate therein, else the welfare of the nation would undoubtedly be placed above self interest or points of dissension in labor groups.

There has been a determined effort on the part of government to avoid drastic measures in dealing with strike problems and William S. Knudsen, director-general of the Office of Production Management, has suggested a "cooling off" period to prevent abrupt stoppage of work. The purpose of such a plan would be to allow a 40-day interval for mediation before a strike call could become effective.

Whatever plan is finally devised, it stands to reason that when an actual war danger is finally realized, the forces of labor must be aligned whole-heartedly with government and industrial management in the gigantic defense program, else chief concern will be for lives, liberty, and the safety of families, rather than for relatively minor differences that have been hampering the defense program.

Red Cross State Institute

THE thoroughness, and seriousness, with which the American Red Cross makes ready to meet whatever the future may bring, is being demonstrated in Mansfield this week at National Defense Institute sessions being attended by Red Cross representatives from all parts of Ohio.

While principal emphasis at this institute is being placed on preparedness for service in connection with national defense, the regular fields of Red Cross activities will not be neglected in the instruction and discussion sessions. The program includes such topics as accident prevention, highway first aid, water safety, disaster preparedness, nursing and health services, and Junior Red Cross work.

Residents of Mansfield and Richland county have, for a number of years, made an enviable record in high percentage of Red Cross memberships, and it is a pleasure, on this occasion, to entertain the hundreds of Red Cross representatives who are attending this institute.

Mansfield's Place In Aviation

FURTHER evidence that the next few years will bring an increase in "air-mindedness" to residents of Mansfield and vicinity is found in the selection of the local airport for further training of graduate pilots from Ohio and three other states.

As has heretofore been emphasized, Mansfield's geographical advantages, from an aviation standpoint, have been recognized for a number of years, and it needs only a further improvement of airfield facilities to place this city in top rank in the north-central Ohio area.

The Mansfield chapter of the National Aeronautical association has proved an active group in pressing this city's claims to recognition as a logical aviation center and the past year has brought considerable growth of public interest in airport development.

Tide Turning Against Hitlerism

WHEN you look at a war map of Europe, you see so vast an area and so many countries overrun by the Axis powers that it may seem hopeless to dream of rescuing them. Yet the defense of Greece against apparently overwhelming odds, and the whirlwind destruction by the British of the Fascist empire in Africa and the Mediterranean, are facts which cannot be ignored. Such facts today are heartening all the fallen democracies.

This crashing reaction against the Italian member of the Axis has obviously shaken the other members of that gang. Hitler's anticipated victory seems now more doubtful and far away, as the Turks draw closer to the British and freedom begins to stir again in the Balkans.

The Nazi system of conquest and slavery is still very strong, but weaker than it was last year. And the strength even of a powerful dictatorship may not be based so much on military power as on its mental acceptance at home and abroad. Let the nations that Hitler has so murderously struck down and enslaved once begin to feel that he and his machine are not all-powerful, and his empire will start to crumble.

Many observers think it has already begun crumbling. The old magic is not so effective. As the opposition strengthens against him, even the fuehrer may begin to doubt his destiny.

Looking Toward Garden-Making

THE SEED CATALOGS have blown in with the late winter blasts, and the devoted gardener is now enjoying the finest garden he will ever make. In it are all his favorite flowers and vegetables, and every plant makes phenomenal growth and is completely free from insect pests or diseases. The weather is just right, too, so that the garden has the proper amount of rain and sunshine.

It is a lovely dream, one of the pleasantest that ordinary mortals enjoy. If it weren't how could gardeners so easily forget last season's failures and plan without any doubts for spring planting and summer blooming?

Even if his own roses never are so gorgeous as those in the seed catalog, nor his own vegetables so succulent, the gardener is wise to dream and plan while winter has its last fling and war rages almost all the way around the world. Delving in the earth, co-operating with nature, watching flowers come to bloom and seeds to ripeness, is one of man's most wholesome occupations.

Investigation disclosed that 60 per cent of the "carpenters" on a Cape Cod cantonment job knew nothing about carpentry—but since when has that been a requirement?

'ALWAYS OPEN SHOP FOR THE TAXPAYER

Listen World!

What's the Answer?

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

ANOTHER juvenile crime wave—this time in San Francisco. 'Teen-age Baby Bandits stealing, slugging, until the whole town's sitting up in shocked protest and Municipal Judge Peter J. Mullins has vowed to clean up the whole unsavory mess or know why.

First off, he puts the Juvenile Detention Home straight on the spot, after a surprise visit revealed conditions unbelievable in any civilized community. Youngsters locked in their barred cells without running water, decent hygienic facilities . . . given only one hour's exercise, even on Sundays and holidays, sleeping on cots which lack mattresses or springs. Fire escapes also locked, without signs to indicate their location, although this violates state laws. Only two night attendants to serve four floors of trapped boys and girls in case a blaze should start.

"They're treated worse than the animals in the city pound!" stormed His Honor. And is San Francisco's face red! But think twice, stranger, before you cast a self-righteous sneer. Chances are, your home town Juvenile Detention or Correction facilities may be just as bad, or worse. And you'd be equally mortified to discover the fact.

Despite our proud boasts, most Americans are far better informed about, and usually more interested in, the inmates of the local zoo than in the handling of their own young delinquents. A tough charge, but we've asked for it.

So what's the answer? Better Detention Quarters? But Detention Homes are where young bandits end, not where they start. Why and just where do they start? Most of us think they start "across the tracks," in noisome slums. And we'd probably agree with the aroused School Board and Parent-Teacher association of San Francisco that what such underprivileged youngsters need is a happier environment, more wholesome recreation, particularly at night.

All of which sounds fine, and I hope Mom, Pop and Teacher go through with it. But is it really the reason for, or the answer to, America's Dead End Kids? I don't think it is. I think the problem comes much, much nearer home and that these same "enlightened," indignant parents and teachers are as much responsible for it as the slums, pool rooms or crooked politicians.

The simple fact is that Baby Bandits are being bred almost as abundantly "north of the tracks" as south. They are being bred in comfortable, adoring, indulgent homes . . . in advanced, lavishly equipped classrooms. And they are the direct result of our adult deterioration in standards.

WHERE DOES OUR TRAGICALLY INCREASING JUVENILE DELINQUENCY START? AS A MOTHER . . . AND A WORKER WITH YOUTH FOR THE PAST TWENTY YEARS . . . I BELIEVE IT STARTS IN OUR AMERICAN HOMES AND SCHOOLS AND IN THE ATTITUDE OF THE AVERAGE "RESPECTABLE" AMERICAN CITIZEN.

Here's an example which may be duplicated in some form in every big city in the U. S. A. Thirty years ago California passed a law forbidding High School "secret societies," sororities or fraternities as being undemocratic and discriminatory. Twenty years ago, when a poor farm boy hanged himself because he wasn't "bid" by his school frat, the state put teeth in that law by ordering the expulsion of any student who broke that law. Today the High School registration cards in San Francisco carry two pledges, to be signed by child and parent, vowing to uphold that law.

YET IN ALMOST EVERY SAN FRANCISCO HIGH SCHOOL SUCH SECRET SOCIETIES FLOURISH UNDER VARIOUS SUBTERFUGES WITH THE KNOWLEDGE OF THE TEACHING STAFFS AND THE CONSENT OF THE PARENTS WHO LEND THEIR HOMES FOR MEETINGS

Such High School associations defy every democratic principle. They are snobbish and expensive, cruelly unfair to the underprivileged child, equally unjust to the struggling taxpayer. Above all, they breed an early contempt for the law, which is all the more acute because it is supported by parental and educational indulgence.

WHERE DOES MANY A "DEAD END KID" START?

He starts in any home and classroom where parents and teacher are too lax or complacent, adoring, stupid or indifferent to enforce the law they should make him respect.

New Weapon Against Death.

There seems to be no end to the stream of life-saving medicines flowing from the discovery of sulfanilamide. The latest report is of marked success at the Johns Hopkins Hospital in treating bacillary dysentry with a new derivative of sulfanilamide, called sulfanilylguanidine.

One might wish that the scientist could find some simpler names for the new chemicals. But this one will be welcome under any name, for it promises to be doubly useful just now. The disease against which it operates frequently is fatal to young children; it is also a troublesome ailment in army camps, particularly in warm climates.

A good deal of progress already has been made against the "summer complaint" which once killed off infants in alarming numbers, and which included bacillary dysentery. From 1904 to 1908 the infant mortality rate in New York State from diarrhea and enteritis was 42 per 1,000 live births; in the 1931-35 period it had fallen to 4.5 per thousand—a decrease of 89 per cent. The result was achieved largely by better understanding of the necessity of sterilizing babies' food and bottles.—Youngstown Vindicator.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Italy, Crushed By Futile Strife, Now Prisoner of Hitler's Army

—By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—With the world spotlight focused upon the Balkans, the all-important situation in Italy has almost escaped public attention.

Real fact is that Italy has been taken over by Germany, and that Mussolini is virtually a prisoner of his Axis partner.

Uncensored diplomatic dispatches report that the Italian people are dazed, helpless, can hardly realize what has happened. In the south they are apathetic. But in the north around Turin and the industrial centers, workers have sabotaged machinery, stalled production and great numbers have been thrown into jail. The jails are crowded, but the sabotage continues.

Italian street crowds salute and cheer when black-shirted troops pass, then curse under their breath afterward.

There is a growing rift between the Black Shirts and the regular army, formerly headed by Marshal Badoglio, but now deposed and residing with Crown Prince Humbert, who also has the support of the army. The regular army never did favor the invasion of Greece.

In order to understand the complete collapse of Italian morale, it is necessary to remember that Italy has been fighting, off and on, for about five years. Her campaign against Ethiopia began in 1935. Next year came the civil war in Spain, lasting until 1938. Then in 1939 came the present war.

Meanwhile the Italian people have finally realized that they have secured nothing from this war—not even Tunisia, which the French were on the verge of giving them.

Nor has Italy received any of the neighboring French provinces demanded with so much noise and thunder by Mussolini. In other words, five years of fighting with nothing to show for it has put the Italian people in the same frame of mind as Germany when finally she surrendered in 1918.

Synthetic Tire.

JOVIAL Big Bill Knudsen, ex-head of General Motors, was explaining defense rubber needs at a press conference of the Office of Production Management.

"There's no occasion for alarm," he said. "We have a big stock pile. Then, there's synthetic rubber. Why, I have a synthetic rubber tire."

"Is it on your automobile, Mr. Knudsen?" asked a newsman.

"No," replied Knudsen, "I gave it to my secretary."

Argentine Beef.

IT HAS BEEN only two short years since every cattleman in the country was berating Roosevelt because he OK'd the purchase of 8,000 pounds of Argentine canned beef for the navy. Roosevelt was accused of insulting the American cow, and political pundits predicted that this was a sure sign he would not run for a third term. Otherwise he would not have risked alienating the farmer.

But national defense and the "Good Neighbor" program have brought revolutionary changes in two short years. And today cattlemen are acquiescing to the purchase of not a mere 8,000 pounds, but 20,000,000 pounds of South American canned beef.

Donald Nelson, astute co-ordinator of National Defense purchases, already has the OK of the powerful American Livestock association for this purchase. In return he told the cattlemen he would buy heifer beef from them, also reduce the minimum weight standards on fresh beef purchased for the army.

"Now, gentlemen, in return for these concessions," said Nelson, "I would very much like to have your approval of certain purchases of canned beef we are planning to make from South America. (Grinning) If memory serves me, the navy got into hot water last year when it bought between 7,000 and 8,000 pounds from Argentina."

"How much South American beef do you plan to buy, Mr. Nelson?" asked Elmer Brock, president of the National Livestock association.

"Well, the Defense Commission has arranged for the purchase of 20,000,000 pounds as fast as it can be delivered," replied Nelson. "As a matter of fact, domestic packers aren't able to supply enough canned beef at this time for the army's field ration requirements. But aside from that, this is a friendly gesture to our neighbors to the south, and good neighborliness, gentlemen, is vital to national defense."

"That's perfectly true, Mr. Nelson," said Brock. "Let me assure you that in view of the very fair concessions made to us by the war department and the National Defense Commission, the least we can do, in the interest of national defense, is to give our hearty approval to these South American purchases."

Utility Witness.

THE giant Electric Bond and Share company was pleading before the Securities and Exchange Commission against regulatory measures which, under the Holding Company Act, would break it up and separate various of its subsidiaries. The company claimed this would wreck their system.

The utility's star witness was Professor Herbert B. Dorau of New York University's Department of Public Utilities. Dorau was introduced as an impartial expert, a professor who had studied the matter scientifically. SEC Attorney Alfred Berman let him testify at length, then began asking embarrassing questions.

Finally he uncovered the fact that Dr. Dorau, together with Professor John T. Madden, dean of the School of Commerce of NYU, had conducted research for Edison Electric Institute which paid them fees far in excess of their university salaries—approximately $150,000 over a period of two years (1936-38).

Edison Electric Institute is a publicity organization supported by the utility industry, including Electric Bond and Share. The two professors, who kept a joint bank account, netted about $1,200 a month each, also maintained an office at 2 Rector street, New York, Electric Bond and Share's office building.

During the 1936-38 period, after deducting office expenses of about $81,000, each professor made some $34,000. Dorau's salary at the university was $8,900 a year.

Note—In 1940 the professors received fees of $19,000 from a subsidiary of Electric Bond and Share and its attorneys.

Man About Manhattan

—By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Russell Crouse, who is known affectionately to his poker-playing intimates as "Buck," was hurrying to his office in the Empire Theater building when a man he could not recognize called out from a doorway, "Oh, Buck, see you a minute!"

Crouse tried to place him but failed, and convinced the fellow wanted to make a touch, was prepared to push on when the fellow yelled, "Hey, wait up."

"I'm in pretty much of a hurry," Crouse told him.

"You're not in too much of a hurry for me to pay you $10 are you?" And with that he ran his hand into his pocket and came out with two $5 bills.

Crouse, a little dazed, was struggling to place the fellow but still got nowhere. The man broke in with, "Did you know Charlie was ill?"

"That's depressing," Crouse told him. "Give my love to Charlie, will you?" and hurried on.

He still doesn't know who gave him the $10, and he never heard of Charlie.

* * *

"A LOT of crazy things have been happening lately," he said today in Dick Maney's office, where a quorum of us were gabbing about this and that. "Only last night two dozen red roses were delivered to the house, with a card saying, 'Much love. Hope you are progressing nicely'." The sender was a lady and she signed her name; but Crouse never heard of her either.

If it seems strange that a lot of things should happen to Russell Crouse, it should be remembered that he is a man who has done a lot of things. He used to write a column called "Left at the Post" for the old New York Post. He then wrote a book on Currier & Ives, and later another book called "Murder Won't Out," which is a study of the 12 most famous murder cases in New York's history. The first of these happened in 1799 and was known as the Alma Sands murder, and the last of the twelve was the famous Starr Faithful murder, which took place in New York in the racketeering heyday of the underworld, the nineteen-twenties.

Crouse was also press agent for the Theater Guild before he quit that job to become an author of musical revues and a producer. He wrote, in collaboration with others, "Red Hot and Blue" and "Hooray For What," and finally the great success, "Life With Father." This last was written in collaboration with Howard Lindsay, and he and Lindsay are now the principal producers of "Arsenic and Old Lace," which is one of the two most successful dramatic hits on Broadway. The other is "The Corn Is Green."

* * *

INCIDENTALLY, these two plays have more "angels" than all the other Broadway attractions together. "Arsenic" has 21, and "Corn" 14.

Crouse and Lindsay own the bulk of the stock in "Arsenic," and have let the rest of it out to 19 of their friends. One man paid $560 for five-sixths of one per cent of the stock, and has received a return of $5,000 on his investment.

On Broadway Buck is known as a man with a single vice—he's an all night poker player. Once he lost a chance to rewrite a musical drama because he couldn't be found. He had remained locked in a room with his pals for two days trying to draw to a pair of Jacks.

TODAY IN HISTORY

On March 5, 1770, occurred the "Boston Massacre." This was an affair in which, through blundering circumstances, British soldiers shot at a mob of Americans. Trivial as was the incident, there was shed the first blood of the Revolution.

Recognize Approach of Middle Age

—By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

YOU and your wife meet a couple on the street. You used to go to high school with him, but you haven't seen him for years. You stop and chat and then as you walk on you say, "John is beginning to look old—poor fellow." And later, 'Mary certainly looks matronly." "Matronly," says the wife with a hoot—"grand matronly!" You walk full of a melancholy sympathy for John and Mary—some people age early.

Then when you reach home you suddenly catch a glimpse in the mirror. Can it be—you? That stooped, grinning old satyr—with the sag in the jaw where the false teeth are? The lines, the bags under the eyes, the hair in the ears, the beetling eyebrows? Yes, you needn't waste too much sorrow on John—you've got it, too.

Realization Hard.

The revelation that middle age has you is likely to come suddenly that way! And for certain temperaments it is a dangerous experience. The people who have lived a full, busy life take it hard. They have always dominated their business, taken responsibility, played hard too, enjoyed themselves, believed in plenty of exercise, always accepted invitations to be President of the Round Table Club, or make a speech for the Charities Campaign.

The realization that old age is just around the corner comes hard to them. They hate to bid farewell to youth. They want one last fling. They may astonish their neighbors and pain their families with any one of a multitude of clinical manifestations — alcoholism, restlessness, agitation, hysteria, wandering away from home, behavior disorders, changing churches or taking up numerology, or it may affect them by apathy, depression, and even suicide attempts.

It is difficult for the high pressure man or woman to reconcile himself or herself to a lower tempo of life. But as Doctors Frost and Bourcier remind us in the New England Journal of Medicine in an article on "Mental Problems of Mid-Life" there is need for drastic curtailment of physical activities. Those once indulged in freely and with inpunity become no longer permissible.

In a vain attempt to disregard these limitations, the man of middle age may overtax himself and bring about at state of nervous exhaustion requiring medical care. On the other hand, if he recognizes the boundaries placed on his activities by advancing years, he may unwisely drop all physical recreation.

Curtail Activities.

I just undertook to have a heart-to-heart talk with a dear professional colleague of mine, who has been for ten years making on an average of ten addresses to out-of-town medical societies a month. He didn't realize what a drain this was on him.

And this is a hard year for such people — excitement about the war, the elections, future finances —but they mustn't take it all so to heart. There are young people, you know — sixteen million of them registered for the draft.

"Growing old gracefully" is the privilege of the few. It is more of a myth than an example nowadays.

13 IN COUNTY JAIL AWAITING JURY INQUIRY

Prosecutor Predicts at Least 30 Cases Will Come Up For Probe March 18.

Thirteen of the defendants whose cases will go before the Richland county grand jury March 18 are in the county jail, unable to provide bond for their release, jail records showed today.

Six others are free on bond, while it is expected that a number of other cases will be submitted to the jurors for secret indictments. Prosecutor Harold Lutz estimated that there will be at least 30 cases on the docket when the jury convenes.

Six of the persons held in jail are accused of breaking and entering. They are Walter Carr, Henry Smith, Marshall Markey, Charles Beaver, Robert Kimmel, and James Palm.

Other prisoners awaiting the jury's decision and the charges against them are:

W. E. Weaver, forgery; Thomas Berfield, cutting with intent to wound; Arnold Conn, assault with intent to rob; Albert Twyman, receiving stolen property; Harry Simpson, non-support; Sebastian Teschler, non-support; Robert Shaw, forgery.

Defendants released on bond include Victor Tucker, non-support; Vergie Green and George Bibbs, operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent; Robert Tate, non-support; Michael Hoffer, breaking and entering, and Wayne Kiner, non-support.

ENACT CO-OP LAW

RALEIGH, N. C.—(U.P.)—North Carolina's general assembly has authorized an unusual experiment in co-operative law enforcement that allows sheriffs and deputies to make arrests anywhere within a four-county area covered by the act.

The counties—Brunswick, New Hanover, Onslow and Pender—all lie in the state's flat coastal area where two defense bases have brought thousands of workers and soldiers into thinly-populated sections. State Rep. Jack Q LeGrand of Wilmington, author of the bill, hopes it will simplify the problem of law enforcement around the defense projects.

NEW AIR BASE BOOMS FLYING

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico—(INS)—Private flyers in Puerto Rico are getting a break from the Navy department.

Barred from Isla Grande airport in San Juan when the Navy began construction of a $10,000,000 air base on the site, local pilots found themselves without a landing field or hangars for their planes.

Today Navy Department officials disclosed that $1,400,000 has been appropriated to build a modern airport at Catano, across the bay from Isla Grande, for use by the private flyers. The new field will be completed in the Spring.

BOARD AWARDS CONTRACT FOR WATER METERS

Buys 500 of Them at Price of $4,747; Air Compressor Also Purchased.

The city board of control today announced the award of contracts totaling $7,674 to three firms for equipment and supplies for the water and sewer departments.

Purchases included 500 water meters totaling $4,747; a sewer cleaning machine to cost $2,250, and an air compressor to cost $697.

Contract for the meters was awarded to the Pittsburgh Equitable Meter company, Pittsburgh, Pa., lowest of seven bidders. The unit price was $9.45.

Service-Safety Director C. M. Crafton said the proposal was accepted principally because water department figures showed that maintenance costs on approximately 4,000 of the meters now in use was lower than any of the other types.

Other bidders were the Buffalo Meter company, Buffalo, N. Y., $4,850; A. P. Smith company, East Orange, N. J., $4,875; Badger Meter company, Milwaukee, Wis., $4,975; Worthington-Gamon company, Newark, N. J., and the Neptune Meter company, each of which bid $5,250, and the Hershey Manufacturing company, Boston, Mass., $4,875.

Contract for the mechanical sewer cleaning machine was awarded the Champion corporation, Hammond, Ind., lowest of three bidders on the firm's price of $2,250.

Other bids were entered by the Turbine Sewer Machine company, Milwaukee, Wis., $2,365, and the American Radiator and Standard Sanitary company, Mansfield, $2,319.

City council provided for the purchase at its Feb. 4 meeting appropriating $2,500 to meet the expense.

Contract for an air compressor for use in the water department was awarded to the W. T. Walsh Equipment company, Cleveland, the lone bidder, which bid $697.

Council appropriated $700 and authorized the purchase at the February meeting.

RARE FORMATION FOUND IN SOUTH

PHILADELPHIA — (U.P.) — Discovery of two rare fulgurites by Josephine Henry, of Gladwyne, Pa., promises to outdo the Encylopedia Britannica and present a difficult task to the discoverer.

The fulgurites, glassy rock formations caused by lightning striking dry sand, are much larger than the specimens described in the encyclopedia. Because of their fragility they must be excavated in small pieces. Miss Henry is re-assembling the sections before placing the complete displays in the Academy of Natural Sciences at Philadelphia.

Both specimens were found in Florida within a mile of each other. The larger will be about 10 feet long and have branches extending two to three feet in either direction. Shaped like the conventional lightning flash, the fulgurites are tubular structures of fused sand melted by lightning bolts striking the earth at a temperature of 3,600 degrees, Fahrenheit.

$11,287 DUE IN RELIEF FUNDS

Mansfield and County To Get That Sum In Reimbursement For 1940 Expenditures.

Mansfield and Richland county will receive within the next week a total of $11,287 to reimburse the relief department for the state's share of 50 per cent of 1940 relief expenditure.

Director Charles L. Sherwood of the state welfare department announced yesterday, dispatches from Columbus said, that $2,209,210 would be distributed to Ohio relief areas under provisions of the "moral obligations" bill enacted by the legislature.

The amount due the relief areas is the balance to cover the state's 50 per cent share of the 1940 costs.

Of the total, Mansfield will receive $5,818; Richland county, $5,469; Shelby, $995.

Distributions to other nearby cities and counties include: Galion, $1,094; Bucyrus, $2,977; Ashland county, $4,562; Crawford county, $1,992; Holmes county, $2,746; Huron county, $4,064.

American Firm Lists Prices For Bomb Shelters

QUINCY, Mass.—(INS)—Bomb Shelters, $110 and up, F. O. B. Quincy.

A Quincy firm has announced that should war come to America it is prepared to turn out bomb shelters at the rate of 1,000 a week.

Some already set on display are similar to those in use in Great Britain except that they have a sharply coned top compared with the dome-topped English type.

Some of these have been sold to purchasers as a fad—or as a practical play-house. They have a peace-time purpose, according to the builders, as hurricane shelters. Tons of debris could fall on the shelters without harming the occupants, they state. Sides are of the steel plate.

The shelters have concrete foundations and come in sizes to accommodate 5 to 50 persons.

CHAPTER XXVI

After the evening meal, Old Sol did settle down in his huge rocker with its rawhide bottom, his pipe in his mouth and the latest bundle of New York papers at hand. He placed the paper in order, the newest one on the bottom of the pile.

Had he gotten to the newspaper on the bottom of his stack and looked at the society news he would have been "flabbergasted." For this particular paper contained photographs of the Farnsworth family, together with news of this prominent family's more recent doings. It, contained news also of social activities in Philadelphia including an item: "Mrs. Pauline Stevenson Huntington-Smythe to Sponsor Hudson Alexander's opening of Garrity Theater."

* * *

Sol Perriwell was interrupted before he had gotten far with his reading of the New York papers, so missing the photographs of the Farnsworth family and the news that Pauline was sponsoring Alexander's opening of the Garrity theater. A noisy crowd of merrymakers invaded the Lodge with its cheery wood fire and its bright kerosene lamps. Cowboys Gabby and Shorty, Slim and Bronc Peters had taken it upon themselves to entertain the guests. According to Gabby, the guest was "jus' a rarin' for an ol'-time Western dance."

As on the previous evening, the unsquelchable, fun-loving Gabby had helped Bobbie with the after-supper chores. In this he had had for able lieutenants Bronc, Slim, Shorty, and even old Lanky Lem. Only Cinders Malloy Sturgis and Stuttering Jake, busy with other chores, had kept out of it.

Yet Cinders had paused a moment at the kitchen door to inquire, "Have any of you boys seen the ragged old shirt I was wearing yesterday?"

The cowboys had not even noticed the shirt and they most certainly had not taken the garment. Was it missing?

"Missing," said Cinders. "Left it on my bed this morning but it's not there now. Who the dickens would pick up that old rag?"

He had turned away then, but Nancy, moved by a sudden impulse, had rushed out to overtake the young man. "Cinders," she said softly, laying her hand on his arm, "it doesn't seem as if a missing shirt would amount to anything and I don't want to stir up trouble for anybody. But I happen to know both Barclay and Tony visited the bunkhouse today. You might ask them if—"

"Heck! Neither one of those birds could have any use for my old shirt," Cinders cut in. "Still," after a pause, "you've started me thinking, Bobbie . . . Now that damned Barclay—excuse the language—what's he playing?"

"I—I'm not sure enough about—about anything to say a word against the man or—" Nancy faltered and found herself glad of Gabby's loud interruption.

"Hi, Bobbie! We're missin' you."

* * *

The girl had hurried back to the cookhouse with Cinders' last low words in her ears: "Maybe I've got no right, but I'm going to find out all I can about Mr. Barclay."

Nancy had not forgotten this incident even though preparations for the dance were now occupying her attention.

Lanky Lem had his ancient fiddle under his arm, the ranch radio being out of commission as usual. Ike Skittles had brought to light from under his bunk one of his most cherished possessions, an accordion. Bronc and Slim had visited the cabins and rallied all the guests except Kirk Maxwell who was still busy with snapshots and his article.

Sol Perriwell sighed. He put his precious papers out of harm's way and watched the boys move the furniture and roll up the rugs with swift efficiency. How-them lazy cowhands could hustle at somethin' they really wanted to do! But put 'em to buildin' fence and one of 'em could work all day in the shade of the same post. They'd ride and rope, bust broncos and brand calves, you bet-cha, but honest-to-gosh work they hated pretty near as much as did old Sol himself.

The guests came swarming in, all dressed up "wild and western" except Marcia Farnsworth, who wore an evening dress and all her "sparklers" in the form of necklace, brooch, bracelets, rings and watch.

"Gosh," Sol thought, "how much is that gal worth on the hoof? If only Tony can hook her, I can afford to be a guest at a dude ranch myself. Put in my time fishing, playing poker and drinking whiskey. Well—maybe. Ma Perriwell might be kind of obstinate. Of late years she's developed into a danged determined female that jus' can't be bumfoozled."

Bobbie, the hired girl, had no "sparklers" nor 'evening dress, but somehow 'rother Sol knew she was present. So did everybody else. She was first choice with everybody except Tony, who singled out Miss Farnsworth. Sol deciding he'd sure dance with Bobbie himself, crowded into the group around her.

* * *

But Sol didn't get his dance with the "hired girl." Gabby, who had taken the first waltz with her and reluctantly relinquished her to Bronc Peters for the second, soon demanded that old Sol call a real Western square dance. Whereupon ye genial host of the T Slash stood up beside old Lanky the fiddler, and old Ike the accordion player, and droned in a heavy bass singsong.

"Honor your partners right and left, and balance all;
First couple out to the couple on the right,
Cage the birdie and three hands 'round;
Bird hop out and the crow hop in,
Three hands 'round and go agin.

"On to the next. Ladies do-si-do
Gents, you know. Little more do, gents;
Little more do.
Allemane left, and grand right and left
Meet your partner with the elbow, gee-bow, haw-bow,
And keep a-hookin' on."

Thus the fun continued with nearly everybody laughing and cheering and whooping it up. But old Sol's puckered eyes saw Cinders Malloy with Stuttering Jake come in and look on for a minute. After this Cinders went away, though Stuttering Jake stayed. Sol saw ranch buyer Barclay put on a fancy waltz with Bobbie that was a "plumb dinger." How that fellow with the cast in his left eye and the pale, sharply chiselled features could dance. So could the girl. But she showed marked hesitation about giving him that dance. She showed even more hesitation about dancing with Tony. Was she a kind of snooty little filly? Or did she just feel sort of different about two-stepping with the son of her employer?

* * *

After that heat was over and Tony had led the hired girl to a rather dark corner to seat her, old Sol saw something else. He saw Tony bend over Bobbie, his back to the room, and stealthily show her something. Sol could neither see this object nor hear what Tony said, but the girl looked scared.

What young Perriwell was showing Nancy was a certain billfold with three initials—"J. W. S."—stamped on it, and Tony was saying for her ears alone, "You've been sort of chummy with that Cinders bird. I figure you two know one another before you came here, and I just want to tell you, missy, I can put him in jail any time I take the notion. You see this wallet?"

Nancy asked, "What about it?"

"Just this. 'Twas in Mister Cinder Malloy's bunk. He stole this wallet from a man 'way back east. It was full of jack, too. Now don't be scared. I ain't going to do nothing yet. But you savvy I got that crook just where I want him, same as I've got you."

"So you'll blackmail him, too?" said Nancy in an equally low tone. However her frightened eyes were not on the billfold. They were on Barclay, who was watching her and Tony with far more than casual interest. Far more!

"Tony, you seem to know everything," the girl continued. "Just what do you know about me?"

"Plenty," said Tony smugly. "Plenty. You're a crook and so is your pal, Cinders. His name is Don Sturgis. Yours? Well, Roberta Rowland sounds sorta of fishy. So I expect you've got another name."

Nancy's eyes took on a defnite piercing quality, most disconcerting to Tony, who hated to have any one look right through him as if reading his crafty mind.

"But you don't know what it is?"

"No, and I don't care." Tony slipped the billfold into his hip pocket and turned, for Shorty and Bronc and Gabby were racing toward them, each eager for this next dance with Bobbie.

Nancy gave each a smile and swung away in Gabby's arms. Somehow she still smiled, although this dance where she had hoped to forget her worries and even herself was proving an ordeal. 'Twas fun, yes, for the cowboys were so eager and jolly; so clean and fine and honest. No doubt the real Roberta Rowland was having the time of her life. At least the jewel-bedecked girl in the evening dress, which Nancy was sure was the first evening dress Roberta had ever worn, seemed happy.

As for Nancy Eleanor Smith—earlier Barclay had danced with her and had whispered, "You've had time enough to think it over. How about sending that wire?"

She had refused to answer. Afterwards Tony had told her he knew Cinders Malloy was Don Sturgis and that he had stolen the billfold that Nancy knew so well. She did, however, find some satisfaction in Tony's last admission. He did not know her true identity. Yet Tony had told the girl posing as Marcia Farnsworth that he knew exactly who she was. It was most confusing.

Presently, Nancy caught sight of Cinders at the outer door. In spite of his being so moody and so decidedly offish toward her, he couldn't stay away! Neither could Kirk Maxwell, it seemed, for the associate editor of "The All-Seeing Eye" suddenly breezed into the big room.

"Make room for one more," he boomed. "I want to celebrate. My article's finished. So are the pictures. Everything's ready to mail tomorrow. How about a waltz or two-step or what have you, Miss Farnsworth?" to Roberta Rowland.

Nancy vowed to herself, "No one, no one, shall ever see that article in print!"

Gabby had sought her again and to this lively cowboy she said, "You'll think I'm a quitter. But I m so tired. Can't we break this up soon?"

"Sure. Any time you say, Bobbie. But ain't it been swelligant?"

But how far more "swelligant" to find herself in her own room again, the lights of the ranch being put out one after another and the silence of night to quiet her nerves. The rain had long since ceased, but the clouds had not broken and no stars shone. The rain-washed air was heavy with the delightful fragrance of pines and flowers and damp earth.

Reluctant to go to bed, Nancy stood by her open window, drinking all this in, when suddenly a man came into view in front of the window.

"Bobbie, you there?" The voice of Cinders Malloy Sturgis.

"Yes, Cinders. I can hardly see you."

"Nor I you, Bobbie." Very low as if afraid of being overheard. "Bobbie, you remember how I sort of hinted to you that I had a reason to look out for Miss Farnsworth's interests?"

"Yes, Cinders."

"I don't know if I can explain or not, Bobbie. But this write-up and the pictures that damned Maxwell is ready to send his lousy paper—" He broke off.

'Nancy's nerves were tingling. "I get the idea, Cinders. Undesirable publicity. Isn't that it?"

"That's exactly it. Old Bill'd hit the ceiling if that stuff came out." Cinders' arm came through the open window and his hand closed on Nancy's. "Er—Bobbie, will you help me steal the stuff?"

THEATERS

Broadway Hit.

"Free and Easy," the picture based on a Broadway hit of a few seasons ago, "The Truth Game," by Novello, is playing at the Ohio through Friday. Comedy situations arise from various expedients the socialites employ to keep "in the swim," their flirtations with wealthy women and other adventures. Ruth Hussy and Robert Cummings are co-starred in this whimsical story. Included in the supporting cast are Judith Anderson, Reginald Owens, Nigel Bruce, and C. Aubrey Smith.

* * *

'Studio Scandals.'

Today and Thursday the "Studio Scandals" will be presented on the stage of the Madison theater, along with the showing of a new movie. Feature of the road show are the Lucky Girls in a cast of 35 veteran performers. The show has made quite a name for itself, having played in many large cities in Europe and America. On the screen is "Ride, Kelly, Ride," starring Eugene Pallette and Rita Quigley with a newcomer, Marvin Stephens. This is a thrilling story of the race track.

* * *

Pulitzer Prize Story.

The stage show, "Our Town," which had such a successful run on Broadway, has been filmed, and is now showing at the Majestic. Martha Scott and William Holden play the roles of the young bride and groom in the Sol Lesser Pulitzer prize story. Frank Craven, stage actor, has an important role in the movie. Co-feature is "New Moon," the Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy musical film, which has a colorful background of 1780 in New Orleans.

* * *

Jean Harlow Film.

One of Jean Harlow's first pictures, "Hell's Angels," is showing through Thursday at the Ritz. This spectacular drama of the air revives another old favorite of the screen, Ben Lyon, who has been in England for some time working on stage and movie productions. Two years were devoted to the filming of this drama and one of the exciting sequences of the picture is one in which 50 planes are shown in a free-for-all combat. Second attraction is "Romance of the Rio Grande."

* * *

Two New Bills.

Blending romance, comedy and music, "I'm Nobody's Sweetheart Now" is the attraction at the Park, beginning Thursday. How two pairs of young lovers try to solve their romantic problems in the face of parental objections is the theme of the story. Dennis O'Keefe, Constance Moore, Helen Parrish and Lewis Howard have the leading roles. Co-feature is "Trailing Double Trouble," starring the range busters, Ray Corrigan, John King and Max Terhune.

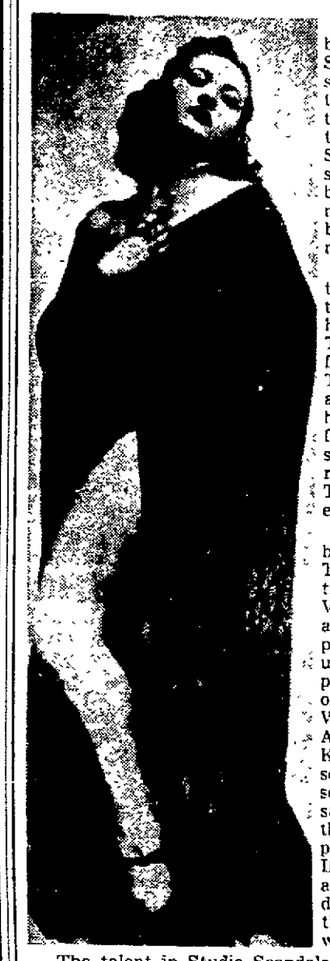
EVEN FRED ALLEN PRAISES TALENT COMING TO MADISON STAGE
SPECIAL BARGAIN MATINEES


Miss June Just, one of the many beautiful dancing girls in Studio Scandals, thirty-five people road show, featuring glamorous beauties, and outstanding stars returned from a triumphant twenty thousand mile European tour. Studio Scandals plays the Madison theater in Mansfield for two big days, starting today and running through Thursday. Special bargain prices will prevail each matinee until 2 p. m.

The famous Billy Rose is said to have praised the girls as being the most beautiful and talented he had ever seen. The Chicago Tribune wrote "The most beautiful girls on tour." The New York Times said, "Miss Evelyn Willard, appearing with the Lucky Girls, has one of the world's most perfect figures." Commenting on Edison and Louise, the show's starring comedy team, the London Times wrote, "The funniest act ever seen here."

Rudy Vallee, and Fred Allen, both were so impressed by the Three Youman Brothers, sensational act in the show, that both Vallee and Allen presented this act on their coast to coast radio programs These three boys, by using various musical instruments, perfectly imitate the music of all of America's leading name bands. When they play the music of Artie Shaw, Benny Goodman, Kay Kyser, and all the others, they sound exactly like the bands themselves. They created such a sensation at the Roxy in New York, that they were requested to play privately for President Roosevelt. If you want the thrill of hearing all your name bands at one time, don't miss the Youman Brothers, the only act of its kind in the world.

The talent in Studio Scandals has been with, and endorsed by the Roxy Theatre in New York, Oriental Theatre in Chicago, Warner Brothers Picture Corp., and a host of others.

Studio Scandals plays the Madison today and tomorrow.

COMMUNICABLE DISEASE DOUBLES IN COUNTY DURING JANUARY

Headed by a wave of influenza and pneumonia, communicable diseases in Richland county, exclusive of Mansfield and Shelby, during January, showed a 100 per cent increase over the same period a year ago, Dr. Roy C. Rehder, city-county health commissioner, said today.

During the month, when an epidemic of severe colds and influenza raged throughout the state and forced the closing of numerous schools in the Richland county area 65 cases of contagious diseases were reported in the county. During January, 1940, only 32 cases were recorded.

There was five cases of "flu" reported; six cases of pneumonia and 16 cases of whooping cough. Last year during the same period there was only one case of whooping cough reported and none of either influenza or pneumonia. Hundreds of cases of colds—at one time school attendance was off more than 1,500—were not reported.

The report also disclosed 32 cases of chickenpox, an increase of 19 over the total reported in January, 1940, and one each of measles, mumps and tuberculosis.

Dr. Rehder said it was the first time in several months that no cases of scarlet fever were reported for the second consecutive month.

Deaths in the county also showed an increase, 36 as compared with 19 a year ago. A total of 25 births was recorded as against 36 in 1940.

A COOL MILLION!

...THAT'S THE BILL OHIO MOTORISTS PAY EVERY WINTER FOR STARTING FAILURES!

But holders of SOHIO Starting Guarantees never pay a penny!

ONE million dollars will buy a lot of groceries, a lot of vacations and a lot of fun ... for a lot of people!

But, recent surveys indicate that Ohio car owners paid that tremendous toll this winter for starting failures. $2 ... $4 ... $5 at a time they dug down in their pockets—unnecessarily! For Standard Oil again offered every Ohio motorist this written promise—"You Start or We Pay." That's the guarantee which goes with a regular winter change-over at SOHIO.

The "starting bill season" is just about over for this winter. But it won't be long until there'll be another coming along. So pin a note to your winter overcoat when you put it away ... to remind you next fall that you don't have to chip in your hard-earned cash for starting trouble. Just write this note to yourself:—"This year let SOHIO worry ... get Guaranteed Starting for the car now at no extra cost and let Standard Oil pay any starting bills I have."

HOLLYWOOD

—By Robbin Coons

HOLLYWOOD—It's all right for the Harvard Lampoon boys to have their little joke, but I'm afraid they won't get Joan Crawford on a pension soon. The girl's too busy thinking up new angles.

This picture she's doing now, for instance. It's "A Woman's Face," a picture once made by Ingrid Bergman in Sweden. It's about a pretty girl with a horrific scar. It's not the sort of thing a glamor girl would do. Maybe some glamor girls would do it, but they'd insist on a midget scar—dramatic, but elegant and refined.

ROBBIN COONS

Joan would have none of that. She went whole-hog. She fished around the make-up and came out with a whale of a scar—the sort of disfigurement that would really warp a soul, as the woman's in the story is warped. It's such a honey that you won't be seeing too much of it—just enough to get the idea. Later, when the character is made presentable by plastic surgery, you'll be seeing more of Joan and the warped soul the surgery couldn't cure.

* * *

All this is in line with what George Cukor, the director, calls Joan's "tremendous acting conscience." The sort of "conscience" that made her insist, when they were casting "Susan and God," on an adolescent to play her daughter, as in the play. That was instead of pleading for a Hollywood compromise. You know, a compromise that leaves the play just as it is—except for changing the mother into a very young girl who couldn't possibly have an adolescent daughter.

When Joan was turning M-G-M upside down, fighting for the role of the cheapie in "The Women," she made a characteristic sally: "I'd play Wally Beery's grandma if it were a good part."

No, they can't pension off a gal who's in there fighting and doing things. Joan isn't even feazed when "Rain" is brought up—most unkindly, of course. "Rain" is a black page in the Crawford diary. She got lampooned plenty, and not by Harvard, for her Sadie Thompson.

"Some day," says Joan with a look in her eye, "I'm going to make 'Rain' again—but this time good."

COUNCIL PUTS O. K. ON $25,000 WATER PROJECT

Sets Up Funds To Install New High Capacity Main In Industrial District.

City council today had cleared the way for a $25,000 improvement in the municipal water distribution system calling for the installation of a high capacity main in the east side industrial district.

The legislators at their March meeting last night unanimously approved an appropriation of $14,000 from the waterworks surplus to meet the city's share of the cost of the project planned with the aid of the WPA.

The project already approved by the federal agency is expected to be started by May 1.

It is scheduled to be completed within 60 days and will employ approximately 80 workers now at work on the Weldon avenue-Lexington avenue improvement.

City Engineer W. C. Statler said the men would be transferred to the east side project when the $70,000 project now under way is completed. It is expected to be finished some time next month.

The project will consist of laying a 12-inch line from the Park avenue east subway to Dorian street, over East Fourth to Purdy and then to East Fifth street to Wayne, connecting the high and low pressure lines.

It also provides for the installation of a pressure regulating valve in the vicinity of Jeanette and Blanche street, Statler said.

The city's share of the cost is figured at $15,000 for materials including the pipe while the government will meet the balance of the cost for labor.

Council also approved preliminary legislation calling for the paving of Wood street frim Cline to Ruth avenue.

Included in the city's 1940 street improvement program, final legislation authorizing the improvement will come before council next month.

Preliminary legislation calling for the installation of a sanitary sewer on Linden road and Paxford place was also approved.

Laff-a-Day

"It must be love. He didn't spend a cent on me all evening and I had a good time."

Up and Down THE STREET

In its family welfare work the Salvation Army is called upon for all sorts of service. Yesterday Adjutant Paul Hoffman and Mrs. Hoffman had to play mother and father to three small youngsers abandoned by their own mother and brought to the Army for care. But today Adjt. Hoffman was faced with an entirely different appeal. It was from a serious fellow reciding in Canton who wants the Salvation Army man to find him a wife. The man said he was a widower, tired of restaurant cooking and wanted a small home of his own. He is 46 and makes $1,200 a year. He wants a wife who can cook and can manage to live comfortably on his small income. Adjt. Hoffman will investigate the man thoroughly and if he's O. K. will attempt to introduce him to the right woman. It's all in the day's work.

There were several new laws on city books today that weren't enacted exactly to Hoyle at last night's meeting of city council, but it is doubtful if anyone will ever question the procedure. Boy Scout councilmen, in a belated observance of National Boy Scout week, attended the meeting and held forth with their respective ward legislators. They voted on several measures, casting their ayes for the councilmen, as the latter directed.

Mansfield's new city seal is not only official, but today it is sporting a handsome old-gold frame and a circular one at that. After long conferences to choose just the right emblazonry and a subsequent argument over the founding date of the city when the seal had been finally approved, city officials thought it would only be right to have the emblem properly dressed up. Circular frames just don't lie around at large in city hall corridors, so officials began a hunt. They found just what they wanted on an old picture at the Ritter company. This morning the newly framed seal was delivered to the mayor's office in a frame wholly befitting its dignity.

EXPECTED TO SEEK INCREASE OF 16 MILLION

Will Ask State Departmental Building Program, Hike In Pension Funds.

(By United Press)

COLUMBUS — Governor John W. Bricker will include a request for $7,000,000 to be expended on a state departmental building program when he submits his biennial budget recommendations to the Ohio legislature tonight, the United Press learned from an authoritative source today.

The total budget requests will aggregate approximately $16,200,000 above the money actually appropriated for the past two years, it was disclosed.

The governor will appear in person to deliver his fiscal proposals to the house and senate, meeting in joint session, at 8:15 p. m.

Presentation of the budget is expected to quiet, for a day or two at least, the "revolt" of the potent Democratic minority in the senate. The Democratic senate bloc yesterday announced its refusal to act upon any major administration fiscal measures until the governor submitted his budget.

Biggest single increase in the recommendations of the governor, it was learned, will be appropriation of an additional $6,500,000 for old age pensions. This was made necessary by the advancement of the maximum monthly pension to $40.

This sum will be evenly matched by federal money, making a total of $13,000,000 more available for pensions.

The state building program, it was learned, calls for approximate appropriations of $4,375,000 for welfare institutions, $2,225,000 for buildings at state universities and $350,000 for state fair grounds buildings.

Biggest departmental increase, informed sources said, was $1,750,000 for current operations of the state welfare department.

Bills passed yesterday included:

In the house — A bill which would repeal laws which prohibit the use of barbed wire fences. Passing by a vote of 79 to 28, it was sent to the senate.

The senate passed and sent to the house a bill which permits the purchase or leasing of voting machines. It was passed by a vote of 29 to 4.

A bill prohibiting the sale of fireworks after Aug. 1 was passed by the senate, 32 to 1, and sent to the house for concurrence in amendments which delays the effective date of the measure until after the next July 4. Senator Harry A. Hughes, D., Butler, voted against the bill.

California, Here Comes Good News; No Rain for While

LOS ANGELES —(AP)— It was mighty good news to southern Californians, drenched and disgusted by eight major storms in 25 days, when the weather bureau announced:

"No further Pacific storms are in evidence which might bring more rain within the next several days."

Showers continued to fall today, rail and highway transportation in many sections was still tangled, but there were indications that chamber of commerce drum beaters for the usually sunny winter climate soon could emerge from self-imposed retirement.

The most recent storm, which since Monday night brought two inches of rain to Los Angeles and four inches and more in suburban communities, broke a rainfall record dating back 48 years.

COMMUNICABLE DISEASE DOUBLES IN COUNTY DURING JANUARY

Headed by a wave of influenza and pneumonia, communicable diseases in Richland county, exclusive of Mansfield and Shelby, during January, showed a 100 per cent increase over the same period a year ago, Dr. Roy C. Rehder, city-county health commissioner, said today.

During the month, when an epidemic of severe colds and influenza raged throughout the state and forced the closing of numerous schools in the Richland county area, 65 cases of contagious diseases were reported in the county. During January, 1940, only 32 cases were recorded.

There was five cases of "flu" reported; six cases of pneumonia and 16 cases of whooping cough. Last year during the same period there was only one case of whooping cough reported and none of either influenza or pneumonia. Hundreds of cases of colds—at one time school attendance was off more than 1,500—were not reported.

The report also disclosed 32 cases of chickenpox, an increase of 19 over the total reported in January, 1940, and one each of measles, mumps and tuberculosis.

Dr. Rehder said it was the first time in several months that no cases of scarlet fever were reported for the second consecutive month.

Deaths in the county also showed an increase, 36 as compared with 19 a year ago. A total of 25 births was recorded as against 36 in 1940.

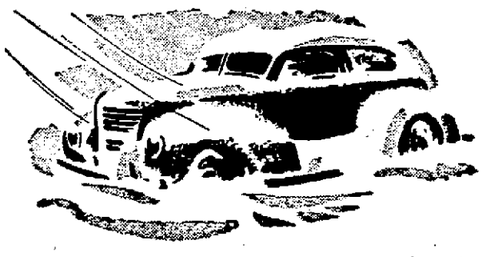
A COOL MILLION!

...THAT'S THE BILL OHIO MOTORISTS PAY EVERY WINTER FOR STARTING FAILURES!



But holders of SOHIO Starting Guarantees never pay a penny!

ONE million dollars will buy a lot of groceries, a lot of vacations and a lot of fun . . . for a lot of people!

But, recent surveys indicate that Ohio car owners paid that tremendous toll this winter for starting failures. $2 . . . $4 . . . $5 at a time they dug down in their pockets—unnecessarily! For Standard Oil again offered every Ohio motorist this written promise—"You Start or We Pay." That's the guarantee which goes with a regular winter change-over at SOHIO.

The "starting bill season" is just about over for this winter. But it won't be long until there'll be another coming along. So pin a note to your winter overcoat when you put it away . . . to remind you next fall that you don't have to chip in your hard-earned cash for starting trouble. Just write this note to yourself:—"This year let SOHIO worry . . . get Guaranteed Starting for the car now at no extra cost and let Standard Oil pay any starting bills I have."
